ARBITRATION BOARD
COMING HERE FRIDAY

It Will Start Investigation of Issues in U. S. Cartridge Strike—Will Inspect Plant Later

The state board of conciliation and arbitration will be at the reception chamber at city hall next Friday at 10:30 o'clock to open the investigation of the issues involved in the strike at the United States Cartridge company as contained in the written document submitted to the board for adjudication.

Captain Doe and Supt. Cahill of the U. S. Cartridge company and such other representatives as may be required will appear for the company, while committees representing the machinists and the other workers of the company will also be present to uphold the claims of the employees. The three members of the board, Messrs. Wood, Bump and Howland, will sit on the case and will hold as many sessions as may be necessary to get all the information desired. The board will also make an inspection of the plant and will thus find out for themselves information bearing upon different aspects of the situation in dispute. The board has had in hand many troublesome labor difficulties which have delayed its coming to Lowell.

CROWDED CAR PLUNGED

Motor Train Plunged Down Embankment Near Randolph, Kas., When Washout Weakened Bridge Over Fancy Creek—One Car Submerged in Water and Mud

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 16.—Reports received by Union Pacific officials here said that one car on the Union Pacific motor train which was wrecked near Randolph, Kan., early today, contained 72 passengers, 60 of whom were drowned.

CAUSED BY WASHOUT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 16.—Many persons were killed and injured today when a motor train on the Union Pacific railroad plunged down an embankment near Randolph, Kan. A washout caused the accident. One of the cars on the train was submerged in Fancy creek, a local stream, and most of the passengers were drowned. Railroad officials said the train usually carried many commercial travelers. Today it had as passengers when it left Manhattan a delegation of young women school teachers en route to a teachers' convention which was to have opened at Randolph today.

Four Bodies Recovered

At noon, according to a message from the scene, four bodies had been recovered. Work of rescue then was abandoned until working equipment could lift the coach out of the water. Rescuers had been unable to get into the forward compartment, where the greatest loss of life was believed to have occurred.

Dr. Louis Atwood and Alma K. Jellin of Garrison, Kan., were the only identified dead up to noon.

According to a message from Randolph the wreck was caused by the washout of the abutment of the bridge across Fancy creek, as a result of heavy rains last night. The bridge itself did not give way, but when the heavy car struck the embankment it sunk end down into nine feet of water and two or three feet of mud. The car stands almost perpendicular. There were two cars to the train, but the trailer broke loose and remained standing on the track.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL AND DEPARTMENT WORK

Extra Expense Added to Work on Memorial Building—Walls Must Be Torn Down

Additional and unforeseen expenses to all jobs tackled by the city council seem to be unavoidable. When the council sets out on what looks like smooth sailing it is sure to strike a rock. There have been additional expenses in connection with the filtration plant, street and sewer work and now comes Commissioner Putnam with "extras" in connection with the reconstruction of the Memorial building. First it was pipe testing that the commissioner said would cost about $800 extra and now it has been ascertained that the wall on the Colburn street side of the building will have to be partially rebuilt in order to stand the extra weight to be imposed upon it. The tunnels will have to be taken down and Mr. Putnam says that about ten feet of the wall will have to be removed and rebuilt. The expense of this job is also estimated at $800 and will have to be done right away. It Continued to page nine

CRUSHED UNDER HIS OWN AUTO

LeDolt E. Kimball Found Fatally Hurt at Claremont, N. H.

Died Soon After—Was Head of Lowell Commercial College.

LeDolt E. Kimball, owner of the Lowell Commercial college, died yesterday afternoon at the General hospital in Claremont, N. H., as the result of an automobile accident. Mr. Kimball was alone at the time of the accident. His automobile tipped over a road embankment and he was pinned beneath the machine. The cause of the accident has not been fully determined. He was found by a passing automobilist who rushed him to the hospital where he died shortly after his arrival without regaining consciousness.

Mr. Kimball left Lowell on Thursday for a business trip through New Hampshire and Vermont. He left Claremont, N. H., yesterday and it was on the elbow road running to Windsor, Vt., that his automobile turned turtle. It is believed that he did not put chains on his wheels and that the road was in a dangerous condition because of fallen leaves made wet and treacherous by the rain.

An automobilist on his way to Claremont found Mr. Kimball under the machine. He was unconscious and bleed-

The passing automobilist succeeded in pulling Mr. Kimball from beneath the car and placing him in his own car rushed him to the Claremont General hospital where everything possible was done for him, but without avail. His chest was badly crushed and the doctors gave as their opinion that he suffered from various internal injuries.

The body was taken to the rooms of Undertaker George A. Rowell and a telegram was immediately sent to Mrs. Kimball in this city. Mr. Kimball's two sons, Earle and Ernest, left Lowell last evening for Claremont and will bring the body home today.

LeDolt E. Kimball was born in Grafton, N. H., June 22, 1853, and came to Lowell 35 years ago. He was a member of the First Trinitarian Congregational church and at the time of his death was superintendent of the Sunday school there. He was past chancellor of S. H. BIG SUFFRAGE PARADE

10,000 IN "VICTORY" DEMONSTRATION IN BOSTON TODAY

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—Advocates of the woman suffrage amendment to be voted on by the people of Massachusetts in November were assembling today with final preparations for a spectacular "victory" parade this afternoon in which ten thousand marchers, according to leaders, were to be in line. Thirty bands were engaged for the event, and facing Boston common there had been erected a reviewing stand to be occupied by Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, president of the Massachusetts Suffrage association, and others prominently identified with the cause.

The program, preceding a monster mass meeting, included a review at the state house by Gov. Walsh and the presentation by Miss Helen Keller to the governor of a letter written by Miss Keller, herself, commending him for his stand on suffrage. Mayor Curley also had arranged to review the parade as it passed the city hall.

Counter Demonstration

A counter demonstration was planned by leaders of the anti-suffrage movement. Along the line of march scores of houses had been decorated overnight in red, the anti-suffrage colors, while red roses worn by crowds in the streets were supposed to indicate their opposition to votes for women. All anti-suffragists of pronounced views were urged by the organizers to stand in silence along the streets through which the parade moved, with their red colors flung to the breeze.

Strict orders had been issued, however, that the suffragist paraders were not to be annoyed, the "red" silent plan of the anti-suffragists being regarded by them as the more effective demonstration.

PARADE IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 16.—More than 5000 women supporters of the suffrage movement, which will be voted on in Pennsylvania next month, were expected to participate in a parade here this afternoon. The procession will be reviewed by Mrs. Frank M. Reussing, president of the Pennsylvania women's suffrage party, and other equal suffrage leaders. Those in charge of the parade declare that at least 200 men will also march.

LOWELL WOMEN IN PARADE

Over 50 Lowell women, it is estimated, left the Middlesex street station today on the 12:15 train for Boston, to participate in the big suffrage parade which started from Boylston street at 2 o'clock. The entire Middlesex county division formed in Herford street under the direction of Mrs. Lewis J. Johnson, the county chairman. The Middlesex county division wore yellow sashes with the name of the county in black letters. Most of the Lowell women planned to wear white felt hats trimmed with the little suffrage bluebirds.

TROOPS ON DUTY

Military Guard for Political Meeting Following Shooting Affray

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 16.—Military guard was provided today by order of Gov. Manning for the meeting of the city democratic executive committee which was broken up yesterday by a shooting affray in which one man was killed and four injured. The committee was attempting to count the ballots of the recent democratic municipal primaries when the shooting was begun by an unknown person in the committee room.

Militiamen patrolled the streets near the scene of the shooting during the night and today. They reported no disorder. As an additional precaution the governor closed all dispensaries in the county.

The man killed in the committee room yesterday was Sidney J. Cohen, reporter for a local paper. All of the others who were shot will recover, it was said today. Six men were arrested. Three ballot boxes thrown into the street during the shooting were recovered shortly af-

SAYS ALLIES WILL WIN

FORMER PREMIER VENIZELOS OF GREECE CONVINCED OF FINAL TRIUMPH

PARIS, Oct. 16, 5:35 a. m.—Earnest hope for the success of the allies was expressed by former Premier Venizelos of Greece when asked by the Athens correspondent of the Matin to express his opinion of the refusal of the now Greek government to send an army to the assistance of Serbia.

"It was because I foresaw the new government would take this attitude that I made the speech I did in the chamber on the twelfth. I have nothing to add to it, but none hopes more ardently than I for an early and decisive success for the allies. I am more deeply convinced today than I was yesterday of their final triumph."

DUFFY LEWIS ACTOR BOWLERS BUSY

RED SOX STAR TO DO STUNT ON STAGE IN CALIFORNIA—PRES. LANNIN MAKES STATEMENT

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—Duffy Lewis, the hero of the world's series, will make his bow as "a actor" at the Empress theatre, San Francisco, a week from tomorrow afternoon. He will receive the softest $15,000 for two weeks' work ever coined by mortal man, will Duff. All he has to do is to wait in the wings while a couple of pretty girls, who are sitting on a bench in a stage park, do a little dialogue, ending with "Why, here comes Duffy Lewis!" Upon which our hero strolls along by the footlights, receives the applause and offers a few remarks.

Lewis, Barry and Hooper are under contract for another year. But Speaker, Scott, Gardner, Janvyn, Hobbins, Collins, Wagner, Wood and Gregg, and several others will help to make news for the Stove League this winter. Speaker cleaned up more than $20,000 in baseball this year, and the negotiations with him for a new contract may very possibly be prolonged up to the next training camp.

Lewis is now on his way to the Golden Gate. In fact, the 1915 champions have scattered like the bullets from an exploding shrapnel shell. The Phillies, who were anxious to make the trip to the "Frisco" fair, tried to have Ben Johnson and Bob McElroy bring pressure to bear on the Red Sox so that the trip might after all be made. In response to a communication from McElroy, who is still at Philadelphia, President Lannin of the Red Sox sent this day letter yesterday, explaining why it is impossible to reconsider the abandoned idea of the trip.

The communication follows: Robert B. McElroy, Bellevue Stratford, Philadelphia: "Received your telegram upon my arrival at my office this morning. Boston club and management were very anxious at all times to make the California trip and understood that everything was satisfactorily arranged with the opening game at Chicago this Sunday. Then, Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco, arriving the following Sunday.

You were present at the last meeting of the Red Sox, and, as I understand, Philadelphia management positively stated their players must attend the banquet Saturday night in Philadelphia and that this banquet was more important to them than the trip.

"This sudden change of affairs and the unsatisfactory manner in which the whole affair was handled led our players, Messrs. Carrigan and myself, to believe that there would be no trip. Most of the Boston players are now on their way home. Too late for Philadelphia management to reconsider.

"There was and will be no banquet to the champions of organized ball. The players did not even wait to see whether Lannin would give them diamond buttons, cut links and other favors for souvenirs, as did Jimmy McAleer when the championship was won in '12. Congressman Gallivan did succeed in getting a few of the boys to sit down with him informally at the festive board, but the majority of the Red Sox were only anxious to get home as quickly as they could.

"A few of the players have already been home, among them Heinie Wagner, who then felt free to accept Bill Carrigan's invitation to accompany him and Mrs. Carrigan in their camp, Anna Bessebrook, near Waltham, Me. They started over the roads this morning. Wagner will stay at least a week at the woodland bower, and the Carrigans three.

Harry Hooper, Mrs. Hooper and their child expect to leave on Saturday for Capitol, Cal. Joe Wood has started for the Glen going over the roads. This Speaker will tour the White Mountain region before going home.

Dick Loblitzel goes with the All-Stars to the coast, but as manager only. He does not expect to play. Cady will play, however.

"During the winter, Dutch Leonard will try to take off some weight, Ernie Shore to put some on.

BLAMES WORLD'S SERIES

Edward J. Kaplan, Accused of Stealing An Auto, Tried to Retrieve Losses, Police Say

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—Edward J. Kaplan, aged 24, of 18 Columbia street, Worcester, who was arrested, charged with stealing an automobile belonging to A. Stewart Rogers of Melrose, in Court square, this city, last Wednesday night, stated yesterday, according to the police, that he took the car in order to retrieve $400 of his father's money which he had lost on the world's series.

Kaplan drove the car to Worcester and was taken into custody there by Special Officer Travers and Patrolman Van Laningham of the Court square police station. All three started in the car for Boston Thursday afternoon. At Shrewsbury Hill the car skidded, finally bringing up with a smash at the bottom of the hill. The spokes were knocked out of a rear wheel, one tire had a blow-out and another tire was torn. There were also other minor damages.

After making repairs, the rest of the trip was made with Kaplan driving the car while sitting in Travers' lap and with one wrist handcuffed to the policeman and Van Laningham seated beside them. They arrived at the Court square police station about 7.30 Thursday night.

WHY GO ABROAD?

It is doubtful if there is a city anywhere in which there are so many distinctive foreign groups as in Lowell and it is doubtful also if there is a city anywhere in which the masses of the community are more indifferent to its composite parts. The tendency will be towards a unification of the various elements but for the present there is a wealth of folk lore and foreign atmosphere within the city limits and those who have a real literary sense or racial sympathy with those who seek our larger liberties will be thrilled and enlightened if, in the proper spirit, they get in touch with the wells of national feeling that spring up in this prosaic old city.

A typical instance will serve to illustrate. A few evenings ago two young men taking an evening walk through upper Market street heard some quaint foreign music in one of the coffee houses of that quarter. Realizing that some unusual performance was going on they entered, ordered coffee and sat at one of many tables. All around were men and boys of all ages, intensely interested in watching a miniature stage on which was being depicted a classic Greek story through the agency of marionettes. The master of the show was concealed by the screen but in a most masterly fashion he impersonated the characters of the story. Though the language was unknown to the two who had discovered such a rare performance, the mimicry and the splendid voice of the hidden magician carried the message of the story home. There was the beautiful lady of the harem, beloved of the Greek hero but watched by a turbulent tyrant. Plot and counter plot were unfolded, through several acts, and there were fights, long dialogues and inspiring love scenes. Between the acts, folk music was thrummed on queer instruments. It was very foreign, very amusing and very instructive. A kindly native of Athens proved a most intelligent interpreter and did a great deal to round out an evening's enjoyment that, being unexpected, was all the more delightful.

The most interesting part of the performance was the attitude of the audience. They hung on every word supposed to be uttered by the expressive figures and they laughed most heartily at the comedy which was subtle and more literary than at many more pretentious theatres. It all went to prove that while there are many things we can teach the foreigners, there are many things that they can teach us if we are not blinded by arrogance or prejudice. Undoubtedly there are many in Lowell who go abroad looking for sensations which they might feel at the charming marionette performance in upper Market street.

USE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Under the proper safeguards and with adequate supervision, there seems no real reason why school buildings may not be availed of to a greater extent than at present in this city. The movement is not merely local; for the past three or four years it has been agitated by social service workers in all parts of the country and while reports are not decisive as yet, testimony from various places is decidedly in support of the innovation.

In this city as in every city of this part of the country our school buildings represent a large outlay and they are used for school purposes only a comparatively few hours, except in those cases where evening school sessions are held. Many of them are in congested sections where the people have little opportunity for amusement or instruction. It is the aim of those who favor their use as recreation centers to advocate municipal events in the school buildings which would attract the older people and create a community interest that would tend to elevate the living standards and bring pleasure into uneventful lives. If such use would not interfere with the real purpose of the schools the experiment might be worth trying.

The director of recreation of the city of Springfield, Mr. A. E. Metzger, in his address in this city last Thursday evening said that Springfield regards the greater use of school buildings as a business proposition, as by this means the public gets more for the investment of its five millions than formerly. Chicago has spent 17 million dollars for public recreation buildings, but the cost of the innovation in the Massachusetts city is only 2 cents per capita—not a great deal if the return is worth it. Under municipal auspices the citizens of Springfield are provided with dancing, moving picture performances, gymnasium classes and lectures. In theory, the proposition looks good, but this city should not act until the matter is fully investigated and weighed in all its possibilities.

Before it is decided here, however, it might be well first of all to see that we are provided with schools for school purposes. While we have so many crying needs such as grammar school extensions, vocational school buildings and a new high school, it seems wholly inappropriate to talk of using the school buildings as social centers.

COST OF GOVERNMENT

The estimates of government expenses for the coming year are the largest in the history of the country except during periods when the nation was at war but the increased appropriation is made imperative by the great reforms that call for accomplishment. In every federal department the great European war has necessitated a heavy monetary outlay not only to meet deficiencies but as a precautionary measure, and on top of heavier routine expenses come the demands for increased army and navy, restoration of the merchant marine, state department expenditures and calls for extra millions on all sides. Conditions furnish an opportunity for political attacks to those opposed to the administration but it is doubtful if any party could make a better showing at such an abnormal time. It is worth while to pay large sums for peace and prosperity in order that we may be spared the incomparably heavier debts of war and national inefficiency. In England men are being told that they ought to be willing to sacrifice half of their incomes to their government and six great powers of the world are facing bankruptcy and a tax burden that will be felt for generations. America ought to be glad that the money needed by its government at this time will not be used in the horrors of war but to insure the blessings of peace.

NURSES ARE INTERESTED

The defence offered by the school committee for their selection of out-of-town nurses to fill local positions without giving a fair opportunity to local applicants was that local nurses "were not interested." Since then it has been proved beyond question that such is not the case. If local nurses are not interested, it is very difficult to explain why so many have signified their intention of taking the civil service examination which is now required as a requisite preliminary. At least 16 have signified their intention to take the examination and besides those there are scores of nurses in Lowell who are barred by civil service requirements. Where, then, is the lack of interest? To the observer it looks as though the real weakness was in the lack of fair opportunity. The nurses who are interested now were just as interested then but they felt that no Lowell nurse need apply, and developments proved that their judgment was in the main correct. The agitation was disliked by many who took part but they wished to make such a pronounced protest that in future our school officials would be a little more careful in the methods employed to fill Lowell positions. And, by the way, there is no reason to fear that under the new system the Lowell public will suffer through lack of efficiency in the employment of Lowell nurses.

FORD ANGERS CANADA

The kindhearted Henry Ford seems to have secured a corner on American newspaper publicity and the usual even tenor of his life is crossed by storms and agitations. As naval expert and peace propagandist he has kept the front pages pretty consistently but his greatest publicity coup has been in arousing a storm of protest in Canada. This was precipitated by his caustic opposition to the representatives of the English and French governments who came here to negotiate a loan and it has been intensified by the resignation of his most intimate business associate who, being Canadian, did not approve of Mr. Ford's sentiments. Feeling is running high in Ontario and people there are demanding that no more Ford cars be bought for the army. Henry hints that Ontario had better go slow as the closing of his Canadian factory would throw fifteen thousand hands out of employment. As seen from this distance the situation has its comical aspects which will appeal to the American humorist who made the discovery that Canada bought Ford cars for the army because an unrepentant man does not care what he rides in.

THE FALLEN LEAVES

Autolists in particular and all persons in general are somewhat of a nuisance in the lovely autumn leaves that have fallen in such great quantities during the past few days. They make the streets dangerous for traffic, especially when a fall of rain makes them soggy and slimy and they make it almost impossible for tidy housekeepers to keep their premises neat. You may sweep and shovel from dawn to dark but the leaves will still wind down to be blown about by the wind according to no fancy but its own. It therefore behooves all drivers to be cautious at this time in order to avoid skidding and those who would remove the leaves had better wait until the supply is more exhausted. If dug into the soil the leaves will make good fertilizer for next year's growth, and this seems the most appropriate way of disposing of them.

It seems that England having put nearly all of the German submarines out of business, is now conducting a submarine campaign of some extent in the Baltic, where a number of German vessels are reported missing and where one British submarine sank a destroyer yesterday. She may also find a means of checking the Zeppelin raids which cause such consternation in London.

Y.M.C.A. DAY IN CHURCHES

A surprise was sprung yesterday by the local Y.M.C.A., in connection with its membership campaign, when it was announced that tomorrow was to be observed as "association" day in the churches of Lowell, with visiting speakers filling the pulpits. These speakers will discuss the work of the association and outline the advantages of membership. In this way several thousand prospective members will be reached and interested.

The work of association day will be followed up by the thirty teams of automobiles, comprising 12 men to a team. The team captains who drew names at the recent meeting are now interviewing and signing up workers. It is expected that this will be completed by Sunday, when a full list of teams and members will be published.

One of the points which is expected to be brought out in the membership campaign is the fact that the Y.M.C.A. building does not belong to the association; rather, it is the property of the people of Lowell and it is "up" to them to make the most of it. At the present time only about half the possible membership is enrolled.

The preliminary banquet of the campaign will be held in the gymnasium on Wednesday night, Oct. 20, for which date a special speaker has been secured. Noonday banquets will be held at 12.15 on each day of the league week. These banquets will be under the auspices of the local auxiliaries, which will have charge of preparing the menu.

As new members are gained they will be indicated by the hand of the large clock, which will be prominently displayed. A bulletin board is also being constructed for use at the noonday meetings in the gymnasium.

The work of preparing publicity for the campaign is going forward at a good pace. Five thousand copies of the full prospectus, and thousands of assignment cards and other special matter will be used.

The assignment to churches tomorrow has been announced as follows: Calvary Baptist, A. O. Booth, one of the state secretaries for Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Chelmsford Street Baptist, W. F. Danner, Jr., religious work secretary, Boston Y.M.C.A.

First Baptist, H. E. Dodge, general secretary, Fall River Y.M.C.A.

BRYAN TO SAVE ARMENIA SUFFRAGE RALLIES HELD

W. H. GULESIAN WOULD SEND FOR MISS MULRY FROM CALIFORNIA AND INTERCEDE FOR THEM

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—M. H. Gulesian declared yesterday that intervention with the Kaiser by ex-Sec. Bryan was almost the only hope for stopping the massacre of Armenians in Turkey. He spoke in the council chamber at the state house at a meeting called to form an auxiliary committee for acting with similar bodies in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and elsewhere to raise funds for relief of the Armenians.

Dr. James L. Barton, secretary of the American board of commission for foreign missions, was the moving spirit in the meeting, as he had been in collecting evidence of the extent of the massacres and Turkish cruelty in Asia Minor.

Dr. Charles W. Elliot, president-emeritus of Harvard university, was chairman and Edward H. Choate, secretary of the Twentieth Century club, was secretary of the meeting.

Dr. Elliot appointed a committee of five to name a chairman, secretary and treasurer and, with these three officers, to agree upon a permanent executive committee. He selected Dr. Barton, Judge Robert F. Raymond, Arthur S. Johnson, president of the Boston Y.M.C.A., Rev. William E. Huntington, former president of Boston university, and Edward H. Chandler.

Miss Gulesian, who has been chiefly a listener, said: "Seeing the hungry and dying in the streets and both very excellent things. The principal thing, however, is to stop the slaughter and there is only one man in America who can do that. A word from the German Kaiser to the Turkish sultan can accomplish it in a moment and there is one man in America who has the influence abroad to secure that cooperation from the Kaiser—that man is William Jennings Bryan—and I think we should try to secure his consent to act for the committee."

Dr. J. S. Jellison disagreed with Mr. Gulesian on the Bryan part of the assertion. He thought that putting an end to the massacres was of much more importance than raising money to be used by the missionaries for feeding the hungry. His plan would be to link the hunger, the womanhood of America and through them the Kaiser.

Dr. Barton quieted the Armenians present, all of whom were interested in the plan to end the massacre of their friends at home by assuring that friends of the Armenians, those put forth by Mr. Gulesian and Dr. Jellison, were properly the things to be put before the executive committee to be named later.

WORCESTER, Oct. 15.—Racing his horses at top speed in response to a fire alarm from box 28 at Millbury and North streets yesterday afternoon, driver Daniel J. Brosnihan of Hose 7 saw flames breaking from the rear of a three-story house at 134 Millbury street, where he lives with his

REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY

Market is Encouraging—Building Operations Closing Up—Transactions for Week

Generally surveyed the outlook in the real estate field is bright. While there has been no great increase in the building permits issued at city hall during the past week over the number granted during the week previous, much activity is shown among the local real estate dealers who unanimously predict even brisker business in the future. Readers of The Sun who are contemplating the purchase of property will find some valuable suggestions in the advertisements of the local real estate dealers whose offerings appear on this page. The following permits to build and alter have been issued by city hall during the past week:

Arthur Dezel will build a three-story dwelling house at 156-157 White street. The building will be of wood and will consist of six rooms, pantry and bath. The cost of the structure is estimated at $3500.

A one-apartment dwelling house, two stories in height and consisting of six rooms, pantry and bath will be erected at 37 West Forest street by Henry Taylor of 92 Norcross street at a cost of $1500.

A concrete garage with a concrete foundation will be constructed for James Moody at 20 Boylston street at a cost of $150.

Manuel Immaculate will build an addition to his house at 74 Elm street, allowing for a stairway in the rear and a piazza, and will change a partition on the second story to make a hallway to rear rooms.

Joacquin S. Campos will erect a concrete garage, with a steel frame at 87 Powell street. The garage when completed will cost in the neighborhood of $300.

Nicholas Cazanov will make extensive alterations to his property situated at 23-25 Wall street. An addition will also be made so that there will be room for two more families. $1100 will cover the cost of these changes.

A two-story wooden dwelling will be constructed at 131 Methuen street by Alice E. Whelan at a cost of $2000.

Mrs. Adeline Wills, 32 Maryland avenue will build a one-family dwelling house, two stories high, consisting of 6 rooms, pantry and bath at 25 Light street. The cost of the same will be $2100.

Margaret Farley will make an alteration to her building at 27 Lane street by adding a dormer window adjoining the sill of the roof.

Alma Butters will build a concrete garage with concrete foundation and flat roof at a cost of $1600.

A. M. Torigiant, 30 Lawrence street, will alter his three-story building at 123 Charles street so as to make a storage house, and use part of house for a store.

Nellie L. Derby will extend the piazza on her house at 148 First street at a cost of $150.

Antonio N. Avila, 145 Chase street, will make radical alterations on his building at 181-183 Gorham street. He will have the two and one-half story building converted into three stories, and will add a flat roof. The cost of the repairs and addition will be approximately $3500.

REMOVING CEMENT
It is very difficult to remove Portland cement from the after it is grouted on. It should be washed off immediately after the grouting. However, I am inclined to think that a solution of muriatic acid—about a pint to a gallon of water—will do the trick all right, if used with a scrubbing brush.

FOR SCREW HEADS
When the heads of screws are to be concealed by means of stopping, it is necessary for them to go below the surface; but in any case it is advisable for them to go a little below, so that if a plane has to be used on the surface afterwards it will not touch the screw. When the holes are not countersunk, and the screws are tightened until their heads are sunk sufficiently, this has the effect of twisting and breaking the wood slightly around the screw head; therefore, it is better in most cases to enlarge or countersink the hole. This is done either with a countersink bit and brace, or by scooping it out with a gouge. In neat work a countersink bit is always preferred. Sometimes a larger hole is bored 1-2 in. or more in depth, so that the head will sink to that distance, and then the hole is enlarged by means of a wood plug. When plastic stopping is used, the head is generally not sunk more than about 1-16 in. Another method, adopted in special cases, is to use round-headed screws; the heads of which are not sunk in, but stand above the surface.

OPERA HOUSE
Today is the last chance offered the theatre patrons of Lowell to see "The Argyle Case" that great detective play which is the talk of the city. Patrons who have not secured seats should do so at once as indications point to record breaking houses at the Opera House. It is one of the greatest plays in recent years and is wonderfully produced.

Next week, the Emerson Players will produce that great Rose Stahl success, "Maggie Pepper," a play that has proven an even bigger sensation than "Within the Law." It is a play of big things and tells a story that is particularly appealing. The play is charming. It tells of the trials of Maggie Pepper, the assistant buyer in the cloak department of a large New York store. She is ambitious to become the buyer of her department, but she is disliked by the superintendant because of her desire to do the firm improve its conditions. She is about to be fired when Joe Holbrook, the junior member of the firm arrives from abroad and who, in his way, is very English. He becomes interested in her and the incidents which follow tend to make up the picture that has been offered in the past decade.

FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
This is the last day of the splendid bill at the Merrimack Square theatre for this week. Marie Dore appears in the five-act Paramount attraction, "The White Pearl," which is one of the most romantic films ever shown here or elsewhere. The audience is carried into Japan, the country of romance, beauty and mystery, and there many brilliant scenes are shown. Needless to say, Miss Dore is adorable in the role of a Japanese maid. Quite a different nature is the other five-act feature, "Scandal," featuring Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley. The play demonstrates the terrible and far-reaching effects of the idle or malicious word of scandal-mongers. In this play, as in real life, the perfectly innocent actions of people are misinterpreted, and vice and ruin are heap upon the heads of the unsuspecting. There are other pictures. The pleasing Sunday concert will consist of a number of well chosen vaudeville hits and entertaining pictures.

OWL THEATRE
At the regular Owl shows today the movie fans of this city will have their last chance of seeing the talented young stars of the silent drama, Harold Lockwood and May Allison, in the great five-reel feature, "The House of Scandal." This film proved a big success at all the shows yesterday and it will no doubt do so again today. A two-reel Keystone comedy will also be presented today.

FOUR ZEPPELINS SIGHTED

BELIEVED TO BE THOSE THAT PARTICIPATED IN RECENT RAID OVER LONDON

ROTTERDAM, Oct. 15, via London, 2.20 p. m.—Four Zeppelins which are believed to have participated in the raid over the London area on Wednesday night were sighted, homeward bound, over various parts of Holland early yesterday morning. In most cases they were fired on by Dutch sentinels, in accordance with the recent orders, but apparently were uninjured. At Nispen, one hundred shots were fired at one airship before it disappeared toward the German frontier. One of the airships bore the number LZ-77.

According to one report, the LZ-77 was crippled and disappeared toward the German frontier, moving erratically and apparently in great distress.

NO MORE SHORE LEAVE

PRIVILEGE TO INTERNED GERMAN REVOYCED BY NAVY DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—All leave of absence for the men of the German auxiliary cruisers Kronprinz Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Friedrich, interned at the Norfolk navy yard, has been revoked by the navy department, until the disappearance of six warrant officers of the Kronprinz Wilhelm has been satisfactorily explained. The department took this action when it was reported by Rear Admiral Beatty, commander of the Norfolk yard, that the men who had bought the yacht Eolipse had been granted leave for a sail but had not returned at the expiration of the leave.

The captains of the two interned cruisers gave pledges for their crews when the ships were sent to the yard and under those pledges have been permitted to grant their men shore leave as they thought desirable. Now, however, no one will be permitted to go ashore except on matters of urgent necessity until it is known whether the missing six men have violated internment. While no prosecution could follow the arrest of the six, it is indicated at the navy department that more rigorous internment would be enforced if it were found that the men had attempted to leave the country.

The distance from the debt limit, Sept. 1, was $266,940.43 as against $282,179.49, January 1. The loans authorized thus far total $225,000, exclusive of the $225,000 water loan. The total net city and water debt is $2,911,377.85.

CONSTITUTION IS NEW YORK ISSUE TANNER SAYS THAT IT WILL WIN

FREDERICK C. TANNER

Interest in the coming election in New York state on Nov. 2 is centered on the new constitution which the voters are called upon to adopt or reject, and the woman suffrage question. The voters will decide whether or not the women of the Empire state shall have the ballot. The proposed constitution, which may make several changes of importance in the fundamental law of New York state was the product of the recent constitutional convention at Albany, presided over by Elihu Root. Its friends say it will work beneficial changes in the government, but some labor leaders and others are attacking it. Frederick C. Tanner, chairman of the republican state committee is a strong supporter of the new constitution and has expressed the view that it will be approved by the voters.

PALMER AT MILL GATE

MAYORALTY CANDIDATE SPOKE TO EMPLOYEES OF LAWRENCE MFG. CO. THIS NOON

Jackson Palmer held forth at the Lawrence Mfg. Co. gate this noon and entertained a large gathering of operatives with a characteristically plain speech. Mr. Palmer, in introducing himself, stated that he was in the fight alone and was not backed by any financial interests, rum shops or newspapers.

He said that he had two opponents who have public records and he considered these records as matters for public comment and criticism. Two years ago he said the voters repudiated the O'Donnell "reign of terror" and he believed it safe to assume that the former mayor had done nothing to make the voters change their minds and he was confident that the voters would treat his attempt to come back as ill advised and unwarranted under the circumstances.

Mr. Palmer then gave his attention to Mayor Murphy and his administration and read the mayor's promise not to be a candidate for a second term. The mayor, he said, had trampled under foot all of his campaign pledges. If the mayor's promise to force the law against gambling, Mr. Palmer stated that boys had been arrested for breaking the gaming laws in a small way but he asked the mayor what he had done to stop the big games which he alleged have full swing in at least two clubs.

Mr. Palmer then repeated his statements relative to the friendly relations between Mayor Murphy, Commissioner Mulvaney, the counsel for a wholesale liquor dealer and the liquor interests, and again he asked the mayor to state whether or not he was pledged to vote for the reelection of Mr. Mulvaney as chairman of the license commission. He then dealt with incidents in the Turcotte liquor case, giving his view of the influences that dictated the decision.

In conclusion, he stated that attempts had been made to drive him from the stump. Attempts had been made, he said, to threaten, beg and even buy him but that as long as his legs and voice hold out he will tell the truth as he knows it, as he wants to represent the people and not the liquor business.

TAKE SERBIAN TOWN

GERMANS REPORT CAPTURE OF POZAREVAC—SERBIANS DRIVEN BACK

BERLIN, Oct. 15, via London, 4.30 p. m.—Capture of the Serbian town of Pozarevac, about 12 miles southeast of Semendria, was reported today by the war office. Elsewhere on this front the Serbians have been driven back further with the loss of three guns.

Bulgarian Success

Announcement also was made that the Bulgarian first army, attacking over the eastern frontier of Serbia, had taken several positions.

German Victories in West

German victories in the Ardennes and the Champagne regions were announced today by the war office. Near Vermelles the British were again driven out of the German positions.

The announcement concerning the Balkan campaign follows:

"The army group of Field Marshal

WHEN BULGARIA ENTERED WAR EVERYONE ASKED, "WHAT WILL ROUMANIA DO?"

Bulgaria entered the war, and everyone asked, "What will Rumania do?"

Would she take up the cause of the central powers and attack Russia to gain Bessarabia or would she strike hands with the allies and try to wrest Transylvania from Austria-Hungary? Both provinces of Rumania's neighbors have large Rumanian populations. Or would Rumania continue her policy of "armed neutrality," following Greece's lead? On Rumania's decision rested the possibility of Russia's sending troops to the succor of Serbia for the route of the Russians lies across Rumania. 1, Rumanian soldiers in review; 2, crown Prince Boris of Bulgaria, commander of Bulgarian soldiers in field; 3, a Rumanian infantryman.

van Mackensen is continuing on its course according to the pre-arranged plans. South of Belgrade and Semendria the Serbians have been driven back farther. Prisoners to the number of 450 and three guns, one of them a heavy gun, have been captured.

The works on the southern front of Pozarevac were stormed last night and the fortified town thereby fell into our hands.

"The Bulgarian first army has begun its attack over the east Serbian frontier. It took possession of the heights of the passes between Belogradjick and Kulajevick."

UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Commissioner Osborn of the Internal Revenue bureau yesterday announced that about 500 internal revenue agents, inspectors and deputy collectors, appointed under the income tax law, had been covered into the civil service automatically by order of the civil service commission and that appointments of this sort in the future would be made under civil service rules.

The law allowed appointments without resort to the civil service for two years from the passage in October, 1913, and the commission held that these appointments in that time came into the civil service at its expiration.

POET AND JOURNALIST

HIRAM LADD SPENCER, AGED 87 YEARS, DIED AT ST. JOHN, N. B.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 15.—Hiram Ladd Spencer, poet and journalist of New England and New Brunswick, died today in his 87th year. In his early journalistic days he contributed to the Knickerbocker and Graham's Magazines and for several years was editor of the Rutland, Vt., Herald. He had resided here since 1860 and six years ago he published a book of poems. He was born in Castleton, Vt.

IMPEACHMENT ILLEGAL

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 15.—The 6-to-3 vote of the city council, by which Mayor James M. Gosson was declared impeached on the night of Oct. 4, was yesterday held illegal by Judge Charles L. Pulliam in circuit court, to which Gosson had appealed.

Gosson was tried before the council on 32 charges, including immorality, drunkenness and election corruption.

Attorneys for the mayor contended that Gosson had not been impeached, as the vote was not a two-thirds majority of the full council of 10 members.

WAR FORCE OF 665,000

Plans for National Defense—Continental Army of 400,000—Militia Strength of 125,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Provision for a military force of 665,000 men and construction by 1920 of 16 capital ships—10 dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers—are included in plans for national defense as approved by President Wilson and which had virtually reached completion today.

This great military force would be provided for by the creation of a continental army of 400,000 men, an infantry of 100,000 men, and a militia strength of 125,000 men.

Program for Navy
The program for the navy provides for the construction during the first year of two dreadnaughts, two battle cruisers, 25 submarines, five seagoing submarines and 12 destroyers, and provides for an increase of 8000 in personnel of the navy and an increase of 250 in the naval academy student body. At the end of five years it is proposed to add to the navy, in addition to the 16 capital ships more than 70 submarines, 50 destroyers, 10 scout cruisers and the necessary auxiliaries. The total cost would be $500,000,000. The defense plans call for a total expenditure

BIG DRY DOCK

Work on $2,000,000 Enterprise at Hunter's Point, San Francisco, to Begin at Once

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Following the announcement from Washington yesterday that Secretary of the Navy Daniels had approved the plans for a big dry dock at Hunter's Point, on San Francisco bay, local representatives of the Union Works said today that actual work on the $2,000,000 enterprise will be begun within sixty days.

John A. McGregor, president of the company, is in Washington today to receive the official approval of the plans. The dock when completed will be capable of accommodating the largest of the government's proposed new battleships.

LOAN CONTRACT SIGNED CARSON HAS RESIGNED

BRITISH COMMISSIONERS OFF FOR HOME—FURTHER CREDIT WILL BE ARRANGED

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The contract covering the flotation of the $500,000,000 Anglo-French credit loan was signed yesterday.

Lord Reading, chairman of the Anglo-French commission, signed the document on behalf of Great Britain; Octave Homborg and Ernest Mallet, the French commissioners, signed for France, and J. P. Morgan signed on behalf of the American syndicate of bankers.

Three words, "Reading of English," from a pen in the hand of Lord Reading, attested the signature.

Four words, "one of them being Basil D. Blunt," secretary of the commission. The other three were American lawyers.

As many multi-millionaire bankers as could be crowded into the board room in the Morgan banking house looked on.

Congratulations were showered upon Mr. Morgan and the members of the commission.

The commissioners sailed today for England on the American liner St. Louis. The contemplated visit to Canada was abandoned, as Lord Reading and his associates feel that their presence at home is needed.

Mr. Blackett and M. Homborg will remain in New York for a time to adjust on behalf of their governments any details that may arise.

Within a couple of months, Lord Reading said, negotiations probably will begin looking toward the creation of the supplemental loan already forecast. It is estimated that this loan will be for approximately $250,000,000.

Whether it would be another bond offering or an arrangement of a different sort was yet to be settled, he said.

About 70 copies of the contract were signed yesterday. Each of the syndicate managers—there are 60—will receive a copy and copies will also go to the lawyers, to J. P. Morgan Co., and to the British and French governments.

Each member of the syndicate of 60 will be required to sign each copy of the contract, making the total of all signatures, including witnesses, on all copies, not far from 5000.

WOMAN SHOT HERSELF

CHILDREN IN ROOM WITH BODY ALL NIGHT—TOO FRIGHTENED TO MOVE

LACONIA, N. H., Oct. 16.—Mrs. Jeanette M. Wagner, aged 34, committed suicide at the home of Dr. F. L. Easton, 75 Franklin street, Thursday night. She went to find with Mrs. Easton, whom she knew some time ago, until she found suitable lodging for herself and two children. She went to her room about 8 o'clock and that was the last heard of her until the children came downstairs about 7:30 yesterday morning and told Mrs. Easton that their mother had shot herself. Dr. and Mrs. Easton went to her room and, finding her on the floor, immediately summoned Medical Referee E. P. Hodgdon, who, after investigation, gave the cause as despondency.

She used a .38-calibre revolver, firing two shots, one of which entered her left lung and the other pierced her heart. The two children, Olive, aged 10, and George, aged 2, who were sleeping in the room, heard the shots, but were too frightened to raise a call until yesterday morning, when they got up and took the revolver from their mother's hand.

She left a note addressed to Dr. Easton, stating that what she said Thursday was true, referring to a short conversation she had with him, when she said that anyone in her position should end her life.

MURPHYSBORO, Ills., Oct. 16.—Joe Deberry was hanged here today for the murder of Mrs. J. H. Martin, wife of a leading attorney of southern Illinois. Two thousand persons crowded into a stockade to witness the execution. Three thousand others were unable to obtain admission.

Announcement to this effect is withheld by the government, the correspondent says, in the hope that in the interests of unity he may be persuaded to withdraw his resignation, the reason for which, it is added, has not been ascertained.

HELP WANTED

West Virginia Operators Find It Impossible to Obtain Sufficient Number of Miners

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 16.—Earl Henry, chief of the West Virginia department of mines, after a visit to the northern part of the state, said today that the operators find it impossible to obtain a sufficient number of men to work the mines to the capacity demanded by orders.

Now the School Board

The school board got together Thursday and listened to a talk by Mr. Bloomfield on vocational training for the city's school children. Congressman Rogers had the best of intentions in bringing Mr. Bloomfield to Lowell and Mr. Bloomfield likewise in explaining to the members of the school board how that scheme is feasible. But doesn't it seem like a joke to talk such things to a school board that hasn't yet grasped the necessity for giving the children of the city efficient elementary education? The idea of talking efficiency to a school board that crowds pupils into school attics; that compels one set of children to remain at home in order that another set of children may have half a day's training; a school board that houses blind children in a building that has no proper ventilation or sanitary arrangements and no running water, seems a humorous joke. What the school board should think of before going in for any new fad for pupils is about proper housing and training the children who are trying to build a foundation for efficiency.

Lawyer O'Connor's Statement

It would appear that J. Joseph O'Connor, the well known attorney, is another citizen who has inclined to the belief that the equal rights for all; special privileges to none claims of his former law-partner, the mayor, were in the nature of campaign piffle for at the hearing before the license commission Thursday night, on charges preferred against a Broadway saloon-keeper, Mr. O'Connor stated: "It is common talk that someone is out to get this man."

"If that is so, you are the first man to inform me," was the superintendent's reply, which may or may not be a denial of the truth of Mr. O'Connor's statement.

The liquor dealer in question was first charged with shaking dice with a customer but this and another complaint were dropped and the superintendent proceeded on the charge that the dealer had violated the law by not having a view of his windows as to the street. On cross-examination one of the inspectors admitted that the obstruction on the rear window was placed there to shut off the view of the toilet.

Handcuffed the Boys

Again the police have arrested some boys and are putting big publicity out of it. The Courier-Citizen yesterday had the following:

"Securely handcuffed, six boys were marched into police headquarters at 2 o'clock this morning by a detail of police officers who believe that they have succeeded in clearing up the mystery concerning a number of recent breaks in Lowell and vicinity. Last night at 12 o'clock the officers left headquarters and trailed each of the boys' homes in turn."

There were six officers in the detail and hence it is assumed that one boy was securely handcuffed to each officer.

The police are to be complimented for arresting any and all law-breakers, young or old, and bringing them to justice. But doesn't it seem like a pretty poor grandstand play, knowing that they are dealing with bad boys rather than with hardened criminals, to go to their homes in the middle of the night and after frightening their parents and the other members half to death, pulling out the young sleep-heads and "securely handcuffing them," and getting them to the police station in time to get a full account of the transaction in the morning paper? Wouldn't justice have been as well and completely served if the officers had quietly visited the homes of the boys in daylight and have taken them out, even perhaps without the necessity of handcuffing them? They weren't armed robbers, or hardened criminals or murderous yeggs, simply a half dozen bad boys who are in need of a good thrashing or perhaps a stretch in some reform school.

You will recall that the police as yet haven't securely handcuffed or even trailed the bad boys who show up in a barroom in Broadway some time ago. They're not getting any great publicity for securely handcuffing and pulling in the big offenders. They haven't as yet apprehended the man or men who committed that foul murder in the tannery some time ago. Such cases would make real headline matter for the newspapers rather than the arrest of boys at midnight.

Kick From Riverdale Street

The residents of Riverdale street, east of Moody were much surprised when upon inspecting their tax bills they found that they had been taxed for street watering, though not once was the street either watered or oiled. Riverside west of Moody was taken care of but the other side was ignored except when the tax bills were made out.

Likewise the residents of Stevens street beyond Pine street claim that their part of that thoroughfare was oiled but once while the lower end received three oilings, though there is no reduction in the bills.

Four More Planks

A few more planks were added to the patch-work flooring of the Pawtucket bridge during the week, but the bridge is still in a shabby and precarious condition and it is expected to remain so until the coming of a new administration.

Dummer Street Again

At Thursday's meeting the municipal council talked some more about the extension of Dummer street and instructed the city engineer to get figures on the cost of the additional property extending to Malden Lane. The municipal council had no intention of doing anything in the matter, and will not do anything until after the city election, except to keep it before the public. The members will not touch it, however, until after election for fear of its political effect for they will know that public opinion is far from being unanimous in the proposition. Instructing the city engineer to get the figures on the additional land is the veriest kind of a "stall" for these figures could be obtained in 15 minutes, and before the meeting had adjourned. There are only four property-owners being consulted in the matter, Messrs. Dempsey, Kelly and O'Dowd and the Wheelock estate. The first three already have been consulted because it is their property that is to be seized in any event of the proposition going through. It wouldn't have taken any time to ascertain the figures had the municipal council meant business. But now the engineer will use up the usual length of time ascertaining the facts needed and preparing a report, and if he comes back too speedily his report will be held up.

Commissioner Morse Hustling

Commissioner Morse stated yesterday that he expects to have all outside work finished before the frost gets into the ground and that means that he will have completed a great amount of street and sewer work. He certainly has tried to do as much street work as possible, whether or not it has been done in strict accordance with the provisions of the highway commission and he has been a busy and energetic commissioner since the beginning of the year as far as departmental work has been concerned. The great objects of the city are beginning to look respectable and something of a credit to the city.

Secret Conferences

These are days of frequent secret conferences at city hall, at which no outsiders are admitted, and outsiders in this case do not mean the newspapers collectively for others it is said to have been "frozen out."

The High School

It wasn't a promise exactly, just an assurance, that Mayor Murphy made at the high school graduation, when he stated that the new high school could be ready for occupancy by next September. The new high school won't be ready for occupancy until one year from next January and perhaps not then, if left to the present administration to go through with it. It now looks as if the tenants in Kirk street will not be molested until after the city election notwithstanding the fact that the order of seizure has appeared before the municipal council and $125,000 has been voted for land damages. Just what that $125,000 is for, the municipal council hasn't attempted to explain. The property that the city desires to seize is assessed for $115,000. Each land owner wants the 25 per cent. more that assessed value, and yet knowing these facts and being parties to them the municipal council likes to book the seizure until after the city election by voting $125,000 to pay for the property. If they are not trying to hoodwink the public what was their reason in appropriating the $125,000?

Where Was the Mayor?

It was quite noticeable that recently when Governor Walsh was entertained at the Club Lafayette Mayor Murphy was not among the invited guests, nor was he at the dinner given to Mayor Bloomfield, at the York club on Thursday evening.

Perhaps he wasn't invited.

THE SPELLBINDER

"What are your sentiments on the question of equal suffrage?" asked a charming young stenographer of the writer, yesterday.

"May the best man win," I responded, "and what might yours be?"

"Personally," she replied, "I am not sympathetic with the idea of women mixing up with men at the polls. Politics at its best is a poor game for a woman to play. The woman's place is in the home, but woman will never get anything by remaining at home. To get along in life one must have influence, and influence comes through the ballot. Women of today are obliged to go out and fight their way through life beside the men, and they should be permitted to make that fight on an equal footing. At the present time they are laboring under a severe handicap, and time has demonstrated that only through the ballot will they ever be able to remove that handicap. For many years men have decided just what wages should be paid to women, and accordingly have set women's wages at the lowest figure possible, and then have blamed women for falling through on a mere pittance. Thousands of women right here in Lowell, as well as elsewhere, are expected to support themselves on $5 per week. There is an establishment right here in Lowell where men do less work for $15 per week than women are doing for $5 per week. Of course, there is the argument that the man should get more money than the woman because he has to support the family. But you and I know that in many, many cases it's the girls of the family who are supporting it rather than the boys. There isn't one boy in ten who, after reaching a certain age, will hand over all his pay each week, and yet in a majority of cases the girls do so. Then, again, the cost of living is greater for a woman than for a man. The man who has a wife's wife's dressmaker and milliner's bills will say amen to that, I am sure. It costs them more to live, yet the opportunity given them to meet that cost is less than that given the men.

"While I can't reconcile myself to the idea of women becoming politicians at the same time I believe that for self-protection they must acquire the power and influence of the ballot."

"How about their capability?" I ventured.

"Women could do wonders in politics; far more than men," was the prompt reply. "Women's work is much more thorough than that of men. They can do more detail work than men, and what they can do in other lines of endeavor they can do in politics."

"Which of the political parties would be benefited, however, for women, in your opinion?" I asked.

"Now there's one thing that makes me loath to become an ardent supporter of equal suffrage," she replied. "I believe in the democratic party, and I am afraid that equal suffrage would put the democratic party out of commission temporarily, at least. I have followed the movement for some time and I find that practically all of the women who are foremost in promoting equal suffrage are the wives or daughters of republicans or socialists. The wives and daughters of democrats are either opposed to the ballot or else are indifferent, and it would take a long time to educate them into going to the polls as partisans."

And with these few remarks she proceeded to resume her work which I had interrupted to wit, the transcription of the last will and testament of one who probably very shortly will not care whether women get the ballot or not.

read any big headlines in the paper which two years ago would have seized upon such cases as the excuse for columns of sensational railing, descriptive of the glories and the lives they have been leading, all due to the administration in power. There'll be nothing doing in the publicity line on such cases this year, though these cases exist, even as did similar cases two years ago.

MIGNAULT'S CANDIDACY

FRENCH AMERICAN CITIZENS' EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE GETS A DEFINITE STATEMENT

An interesting meeting of the executive committee of the French-American voters of this city was held last night at the quarters of the organization with all members present. Considerable business was transacted and the chief topic of discussion was the candidacy of Dr. Rodrigue Mignault for mayor.

The meeting was presided over by Chairman Joseph Payette and committee reports were heard. It was stated that the campaign committee is being organized and the list of names will be ready for publication next week. The committee voted to rent quarters in the downtown district and this matter will be looked into in the near future.

In the course of the meeting it was stated that inasmuch as Dr. Mignault had not given an official statement to the press in relation to his candidacy, some were still under the impression that the doctor would not be a candidate. This led him to give out the following statement for publication:

I fully realize that the duty of the voters as good citizens of Lowell demands that their attention be given to state problems until Nov. 2, and thereafter to the problems to be settled in our municipal election.

A certain number of voters presumably included in the 7000 spoken of in the press as favoring another candidate, have asked me whether I shall be a candidate for mayor. In reply to these friends of mine I simply wish to state that at the proper time I shall announce my position as a candidate for the municipality at the next municipal election.

Various other matters of business were disposed of and the meeting adjourned. The members are quite enthusiastic in their support of Dr. Mignault for mayor.

LOST WITH LUSITANIA

MRS. LUND SEES FOR DEATH OF HUSBAND AND FATHER—CLAIMS EXPLOSIVES IN HOLD OF LINER

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Charging that as result of a conspiracy between Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, and Capt. U. T. Turner, master of the Lusitania, there was a large cargo of explosives illegally in the hold of the vessel, Mrs. Sarah Lund of Chicago, whose husband and father were being sought by the authorities, yesterday, sued the Cunard Steamship company, Ltd., owners of the late liner, for $50,000 damages for injuries sustained by herself in that catastrophe.

Her attorney, Frank S. Monnett, alleges in the bill of complaint filed in the federal court that Mrs. Lund was deceived into taking passage on the ship by statements made on behalf of the company that it was fully provided with safety devices, including lifeboats and rafts.

Mrs. Lund's mother was lost in the sinking of the Empress of Ireland. It was to investigate a rumor that she survived and, with her mind a blank, was known as "Mrs. Fitzgerald" at an English asylum, that Mrs. Lund, her husband and her father sailed on the Lusitania.

SCHOOL CASE DECIDED

State Supreme Court Rules in Favor of Town of Shelburne in Case Over Demotion of Boy

GREENFIELD, Oct. 15.—The supreme court returned a decision yesterday in the case of Clinton F. Barnard of Shelburne against the town of Shelburne in favor of the defendant. This case apparently settles a question that has perplexed many towns through their school committees. The case arose over the demotion of the Barnard boy in 1910 when he was a student in Arms academy at Shelburne Falls.

The boy was later sent to the Greenfield high school. In a preliminary action brought by the boy's father in the district court of Franklin a decision was rendered in favor of the town. Superior court juries in two trials awarded damages of $329. Exceptions were taken to the supreme court and arguments were heard in Greenfield recently.

The supreme court held that the boy was demoted instead of deflected from school and that in such a case no action could be sustained against the town.

TO RECOGNIZE CARRANZA

Favorable Replies Received From All Governments Participating in Pan-American Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Favorable responses were received today from all the governments participating in the Pan-American conference which declined to recognize Gen. Carranza. Secretary Lansing has called a meeting of the conferees next Monday to arrange the form of recognition.

Argentina, Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala replied yesterday. Today favorable word came from Brazil and Chile. Each of the ambassadors and ministers had reported to his government the decision of last Saturday's conference and instructions received since then are in the nature of a ratification authorizing the diplomats here to arrange the extension of this matter. Inasmuch as some of the countries still have diplomatic representatives in Mexico, a renewal of relations in an official manner can be arranged in Mexico. The United States and several other countries, however, have not had diplomatic representatives for some time in Mexico City and recognition probably will take the form of presentation of a note to Carranza through the medium of Eliseo Arredondo, his representative here, who will depart for Mexico to meet Gen. Carranza.

With the presentation of such a note an embargo on arms will go into effect against opposing factions and an ambassador or charge d'affaires would be sent as soon as a selection could be made.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

At the coming municipal election you will be called upon to vote on the following question:

SHALL THE PERMANENT FIREMEN OF LOWELL BE GIVEN ONE DAY OFF IN FIVE?

The date of the municipal election is some distance ahead, but past experience having shown that comparatively few citizens were familiar with life, pay and working conditions of the members of Lowell's fire department, when previously voting on the question, the permanent firemen take this early opportunity to remind the voters that it will be submitted to them again at the coming municipal election, and to respectfully ask their careful consideration of it, before coming to a conclusion as to its merits or demerits.

Study the question carefully before making up your mind. Don't be misled by the statements of those who do not, or will not, understand the situation.

If you are open to conviction the firemen will present to you arguments showing that ONE DAY OFF IN FIVE will be of benefit to YOU, to THEM, and to THE CITY OF LOWELL. Between this date and that of the municipal election they will set forth, for your consideration, in the press, the reasons why every citizen who has the best interest of his fellowmen, and his city, at heart, should vote to give the firemen ONE DAY OFF IN FIVE.

Two Kinds of Coke

You have a big surprise in store for you if your ideas of coke are based on what coke used to be years ago.

Coke today is as different from the old kind as an automobile from a one-hoss shay. Modern machinery and methods of making have produced what is practically a new fuel, not only better than the old kind of coke but better than the best coal.

So great has been this progress that you can find no fuel for furnace, range or heater so satisfactory and economical as

Lowell Coke

It is 90 per cent pure carbon, which is to say, 90 per cent pure heat. No antiquated and obsolete plant could produce such coke, but only the very latest and most up-to-date equipment and processes. The price is but $5.90 a ton or 4 tons, one delivery, $23.

So don't figure on what coke was in the past—but what it is now, changed—almost revolutionized—by the continual improvements made by the

NEWS FROM CITY HALL AND DEPARTMENT WORK

Extra Expense Added to Work on Memorial Building—Walls Must Be Torn Down

Additional and unforeseen expenses to all jobs tackled by the city council seem to be unavoidable. When the council sets out on what looks like smooth sailing it is sure to strike a rock. There have been additional expenses in connection with the filtration plant, street and sewer work and now comes Commissioner Putnam with "extras" in connection with the reconstruction of the Memorial building. First it was pipe testing that the commissioner said would cost about $300 extra and now it has been ascertained that the wall on the Colburn street side of the building will have to be partially rebuilt in order to stand the extra weight to be imposed upon it.

The tunnels will have to be taken down and Mr. Putnam says that about ten feet of the wall will have to be removed and rebuilt. The expense of this job is also estimated at $300 and will have to be done right away. It

AL FOISTS KILLED A DOG

Agent Richardson and Special Officer Gilmore of the Humane society are endeavoring to discover the whereabouts of an auto driver who ran over and killed a valuable bull dog, the property of Leo Evans of 215 Thorndike street, a few days ago. The dog was killed directly in front of the auto driver, it is said, kept right on going, untroubled by the shrieks of the dying animal. Some children playing in the vicinity witnessed the accident, and one of them, a small boy, was smart enough to get down in his mind the number of the register on the back of the machine. When Special Officer Gilmore arrived at the scene the number was given to him, and he started immediately to work on the case. The auto bore a New Hampshire register and Special Officer Gilmore, who has not in touch with the proper authorities, is in hopes that the owner of the machine will be located within a day or so. The dog was a Boston bull and was valued at more than $100 to his owner.

ATTACKED BY 40,000 BULGARIANS

ATHENS, Oct. 15, 8 p. m., via Paris, Oct. 15, 11.50 a. m.—Forty thousand Bulgarian troops with artillery, are reported to have been attacking on the Itrada bridge, between Valandovo, on the railroad running from Saloniki into Serbia, and Kovovo. The point of attack is about 20 miles north of the Greek border. The Bulgarians apparently are attempting to cut railway communication and prevent the entire allies from forwarding of food and supplies for the assistance of the Serbians.

Lighthouses on the Bulgarian coast have been extinguished. Entrance to the port of Dedegatch, Bulgaria's principal port on the Aegean sea, has been forbidden except in the daytime when a pilot is required. All Bulgarian ports are said to have been mined.

PROTECT LONDON

System of Searchlights Making City Carpet of Light Recommended

LONDON, Oct. 15, 4.15 a. m.—London's whole system of protective darkening against Zeppelin attacks is wrong and should be replaced by a lavish system of searchlights making the city one vast carpet of light, according to C. G. Grey, a widely known aviation expert, writing in the Express. The best way to prevent an air raid from doing serious work, Mr. Grey says, is to blind him with a glare of light.

"For this reason," declares the writer, "the proposed plan of sending up aeroplanes at night to attack Zeppelins is ridiculous, because until the Zeppelins cannot find it, and then, as soon as the aeroplanes rise above the Zeppelins to drop bombs, it gets into the beam of the searchlight and the pilot is made helpless by the glare. One hears much about night aeroplanes, but they are there to compose the minds of the people, and the real protection of Paris is a ring of searchlights completely encircling the city. I submit the following scheme for the protection of London:

"Divide the city into half mile squares and in the corners of each square place searchlights throwing wide beams vertically upward, the beam of each searchlight overlapping that of its neighbor. Thus London would be covered with a carpet of light so blinding that passing aeroplanes could see nothing below the land guns would have a clear target in the lighted area above."

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Eight persons, five men and three women, were held under arrest today in connection with the murder of Harry Phillips, a jeweler, who was found shot to death in a West Side apartment building last night.

Phillips' body was found on the fourth floor of the building, and the police believe it had been thrown down the stairs from the fifth floor, on which he had bachelor apartments. Phillips owned a small neighborhood jewelry store.

Some garments belonging to a woman were found in Phillips' apartment.

LAST SHALL BE FIRST

PRINTER BEGINS WORK ON STATE BALLOT—CLARK'S NAME FIRST; WALSH'S LAST

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—Secretary of State A. P. Langtry sent to the state printer yesterday the first batch of copy for the ballots to be used at the state election Nov. 2. The consignment comprised only the names of the candidates for state offices.

The secretary would have had the copy ready earlier if the socialists had not waited until practically the last minute before filing their nominations. The law provides that the names of candidates shall go on the ballot in alphabetical order. This means that Nelson B. Clark of Beverly, progressive party candidate for governor, will be first; Walter S. Hutchins of Greenfield, socialist, second; Samuel W. McCall of Winchester, republican, third; Peter O'Rourke of Medford, socialist-labor, fourth; William Shaw of Andover, prohibitionist, fifth, and David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, democratic, sixth and last.

There are to be between 900 and 1000 candidates for various offices voted on in the entire state, which is nearly 100 less than for the last two years. The difference is caused, it was explained, by the fact that the progressives have fallen down in about three-quarters of the districts, legislative and county.

Will Print $25,000 Ballots

Arrangements are being made to have about $25,000 ballots printed, the ratio adopted by the department being 80 ballots of every 100 registered voters the excess providing for the late registration.

It is expected that even the excess of 10 ballots in 50 may be small in some districts, intense efforts being made by all parties in Worcester and several other places to increase registration.

There are four vacancies to be filled in the coming election, they being a clerk of courts in Essex county, associate county commissioners in Essex and Norfolk and a district attorney in Essex.

Thirteen questions will go on the ballot under the public opinion act, including three that will be voted on all over the state.

These are the constitutional amendments to authorize land takings to relieve congestion in the cities, the woman suffrage amendment and the taxation amendment.

Hampshire county will vote on an act for a vocational school there. Norfolk county will vote on the question of establishing a referendum and an annual moderate, while Holyoke will vote on an act to place the manager of the municipal gas and electric department under the civil service laws.

Leominster will decide whether it is to become a city, and Cambridge, Everett, Lynn, Melrose, Salem and Taunton will vote on the simplified charter.

Curious Situation in Fall River

Boston has the record to decide, while the 6th, 8th and 7th Essex representative districts will vote on non-contributory old-age pensions, as will also the 2d and 3d Middlesex districts in Cambridge, and the 6th, 8th, 10th and 11th Plymouth representative districts.

In Andover the voters will decide whether their representative shall support the initiative and referendum. One of the curious effects of the public opinion law is brought to light in the effort of the Fall River voters to secure an expression of opinion as to the abolition of the present state-appointed police and license commission in that city.

The question is purely local, but the law provides that matters shall go on the ballot by representative districts. As a result, the voters of the three towns will have an opportunity to vote on the abolition or retention of the police commission and may be in a position to decide the issue.

BERKSHIRE PINES DOOMED

LENOX, Oct. 16.—White pine blight, said to have been brought into Lenox on imported pines, is attacking the white pine of Central Berkshire.

Federal and state inspectors have found the blight rust in Lee, Stockbridge, Pittsfield and elsewhere and report that the white pine of Berkshire is doomed.

Foresters and farmers are advised to cut all pine infected. An appeal is being made to gardeners to cut and destroy all currant and gooseberry bushes on which the blight rust lodges in summer.

NO. CHELMSFORD NEWS

Petty Thieves Still Active—High School Hampered by Lack of Space—Other Notes

Another robbery was committed in the pretty little village of North Chelmsford this week, the loser this time being John Westwood, proprietor of the only drug store, who lost boxes of cigars as well as other articles of value.

The store was entered by forcing a rear window and everything seems to indicate that it was the work of amateurs. The police have been notified but they have thus far been unable to unearth any clues.

Crimes of this nature have grown to be quite alarming of late and in several cases though reported soon after the breaks were discovered, the police have made no arrests. Some months ago the village postoffice was broken into, the safe blown and several hundred dollars in stamps and money taken before the thieves departed. Since then homes have been robbed, stores broken into and last week a man was knocked down on the railroad tracks and relieved of his money. The wave of crime could be quickly stopped by the addition of two uniformed officers who would be on the job at all times.

Women's Club

Several new members were taken in at the first regular meeting of the North Chelmsford Women's club held in the North Chelmsford church parlors this week. Following the meeting a well arranged musical and literary program was carried out. The parlors were suitably decorated for the occasion. Close attention was paid to the remarks of Mrs. Charles D. Palmer, president of the Lowell Suffrage league, who spoke on "Woman Suffrage." Miss Ethel Perkins, a soprano vocalist from Tyngsboro, contributed several pleasing selections, accompanied on the piano by Miss Anne Parrish of the same town. During the affair refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Preston L. Piggett, assisted by Mrs. Fred E. Varney, Mrs. David Billson and Mrs. Frank Ingalls. Mrs. Hiram Gage presided over the business meeting.

Congregational Church

All the Congregational church societies are now working hard for the December bazaar. For entertainment at the annual event it has been decided to have a grand vaudeville show with each society furnishing a number, for the first night; and a drama by the Justus club on the second evening.

The Church Aid society has done exceptionally well on their magazine offerings. The primary and junior departments of the Bible school began this month with graded lessons, which makes the move a step upward in the life of the school.

The young ladies of Mrs. Arthur Slater's class are to give a drama in the near future, entitled "The Farmettes."

Mr. Albert Guerin has been appointed leader of the Bible school orchestra. Prof. Burton L. Rockwood will give an address at the Sunday morning service, Oct. 31, on "National Prohibition."

Mr. Burton is a most interesting and forceful speaker and a large crowd is sure to be on hand to listen to his discourse on that date.

The Church Aid society is to hereafter hold its meetings alternately on Thursday afternoon and Friday evening.

At the church service tomorrow morning Rev. Franklin Reeves, pastor of the church, will preach on "Sharing the Burden."

Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the St. John's T. A. S. and Ladies' auxiliary took place in St. John's hall, Thursday evening of this week to consider plans for holding a big social event in the near future. Michael Scollan presided and Rev. Fr. Scott made a very interesting address.

Plymouth Mission

The regular Sunday afternoon meeting at the Plymouth mission will be held at 3 o'clock. Kirby S. Taylor, the preacher, will take for his subject, "It Was Done in the Dark."

St. Alban's Mission

Tomorrow evening at St. Alban's mission, Rev. Wilson Waters will take for his sermon, "Diversity of Gifts."

Court Warrant Issued, M.C.O.P.

The regular meeting of Court Warrant, M.C.O.P., was held in the organization headquarters, Mt. Pleasant street, this week with a large attendance. Among those present was Rev. Henry L. Scott, the new curate at St. John's church. Rev. Fr. Scott is a member of Franklin order which has the honor of comprising among its membership, Dennis P. Sullivan, the founder of the Massachusetts order. During the meeting Fr. Scott expressed his satisfaction at being present, and to judge by the tenor of his remarks it will not be long before he is a full fledged member of the North Chelmsford court. Among other business transacted was the election made by the committee in charge of the coming fall call meeting. Joseph T. Brennan, high chief ranger and Daniel McGuire, high secretary treasurer will be present on this occasion. Tickets for the same can be had by applying to Arthur J. Rousseau or James McEneaney.

School Work

Because of the overcrowded condition of the North high school, the idea formed last year by Principal Truby which embodied half time work in school and half time in the shop for manual training students is to be abolished. School work is progressing satisfactorily despite the overcrowded condition of the classroom and a graduation class will receive diplomas this year. The graduating class is making arrangements to hold an entertainment in the school hall.

FOR GRAND NEW HOTEL

MR. GEORGE H. WOOD WILL START MOVEMENT WHEN HE RETURNS FROM NEW YORK

Mr. George H. Wood, the well known jeweler, writes The Sun that, in company with Mr. John C. Sawyer, the Boston wholesale jeweler, he is touring through to New York city, stopping at the leading hotels along the route and studying the success of these up-to-date hostilities. He states that Lowell should wake up to the success and prominence that a fine hotel would bring to the city, and he has been greatly impressed with the first class hotel built by the Hotel McAlister, N. Y., which is certainly up-to-date. Already he says, he has studied conditions at the Bancroft in Worcester; the Kimball of Springfield; the Mohica of New London, Conn., and the Stanford of Bridgeport, and will continue on to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, making further observations.

Upon his return he will start a movement among Lowell business men for the erection of a fine up-to-date hotel and will open a subscription towards its cost with $1000. Arrangements will be made to select the site, and the final papers have not yet been signed it was stated today that they would in all probability be passed on Monday or Tuesday of next week. The Sun's informant said it was barely possible that the transaction would be completed today.

The building occupying the corner in question will be remodelled to suit the prospective tenants. William Dracou has been awarded the contract for the remodeling and the plans are in the hands of Architect Harry Graves. No estimate of the cost of remodeling the building has yet been made.

MILLS ON FULL TIME

RIDGEBURY, Me., Oct. 15.—Beginning next Monday the Peppermint mills in this city and the York Mills in Essex will go on full time for 58 hours a week, between 6:00 and 7:00 employees being affected by the change. For some time these mills have been closing down at 5 o'clock on Friday and not resuming work until Monday.

NOTIFIED OF STATE OF WAR

GEN. VILLA KILLED

Continued

The report that Gen. Rodolfo Fierro was dead, received last night, came over the military wires from Casas Grandes. It stated briefly that Fierro had been drowned while fording a river.

It was reported from Torreón more than two months ago but not confirmed that a plot existed to remove both Fierro and Gen. Urbina from the Villa ranks. Urbina was killed several weeks ago by Fierro himself—it was reported. The alleged plot, it was asserted, contemplated the removal of the two men in order to allow Villa to negotiate terms of surrender with Carranza.

Gen. Robles of the Carranza forces. It was said, had refused to take over the Villa army while Urbina and Fierro lived.

A Mexican passenger from Casas Grandes arriving Thursday night was said to have brought the first word of Villa's death, but his story became public only late yesterday when it received apparent confirmation from an American arrival, who said he had been so informed by a railroad employe.

GEN. FIERRO DEAD

Was One of the Most Notable Leaders in Villa Campaign—Responsible for Benton's Death

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 16.—The death of Gen. Rodolfo Fierro, reported last night from Casas Grandes, Mexico, removes from the Villa campaign one of its most notable leaders. Fierro sprang into prominence at the time of the death of William Benton, a British subject, at Juarez two years ago. Benton's death, which never has been satisfactorily explained, has been laid to Fierro who then was Villa's bodyguard.

Notorious Executioner

During one of Villa's critical battles, Fierro in the face of a deadly fire uncoupled a troop train, preventing the arrival of Huerta reinforcements. This deed is said to have won him his generalship.

Fierro is said to have been notorious as an executioner. One of his exploits, as reported from the battlefield, was the shooting of more than 300 prisoners taken in battle. He is reported to have killed the men as rapidly as his aide could feed his gun.

The report that Fierro met his death by drowning is discredited here. In well informed circles it was hinted that Fierro was the victim of a coup d'état.

Fierro at one time was a railroad brakeman. Later he turned bandit and robbed an express train at Lampaas, Mex., between Laredo and Monterey. For this he never was prosecuted.

When the revolution broke out Fierro joined Villa and won the esteem of his commander at the battles of Torreón and Zacatecas. Subsequently he became known as Villa's "right hand man" and was with Villa on his recent visit to the ranch of Gen. Tomas Urbina during which Urbina was killed.

Quiet is being maintained in Guaymas.

The Carranza forces advancing from the state of Simlona have crossed the Yaqui river and were expected to reach Durango today.

Gen. Cleguez states that he lost five killed and 20 wounded during the operations against Guaymas but captured 100 prisoners.

ORDERS COURT MARTIAL

Sec. Daniels Acts in Case of Submarine Built Under Admiral

Little's Supervision

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Secretary Daniels yesterday ordered the trial by court-martial of Rear Admiral William N. Little, retired, on "charges involving neglect and careless methods in the conduct of his duties while in the construction of the submarine U. S. S. K-2."

The court will meet at the Boston navy yard Oct. 18 and will be composed of Rear Admirals Fluke, Helm, Parks, Worthington, Gleaves and Dinn, and Paymaster-General Cowie with Lieutenant-Commander A. W. Johnston as judge-advocate.

"The action of the department in this case," says the statement issued by Secretary Daniels, "of ordering the trial by general court-martial of an officer who has been retired after attaining the highest naval rank, on charges relating to duties performed prior to retirement, is somewhat radical and attracts attention. It can be accounted for only as an evidence of the department's determination that the inspection of ships under construction for the navy shall be conducted with the greatest care and thoroughness."

Since the K-2 was accepted troubles with her storage batteries have developed. Navy officials said yesterday defective installation rather than design had caused short circuiting. The boat was contracted for by the Electric Boat company and constructed by the Fore River shipbuilding company.

"The action of the department in this case," says the secretary's statement continues, "has been the subject of close investigation by the navy department. As a result of this investigation the department has been led to believe that the inspection of the K-2 while building at the Fore River shipbuilding company was not conducted with sufficient care and thoroughness, and accordingly has ordered Admiral Little, who was responsible for inspection of this vessel, to be tried by court-martial."

Mr. Daniels said he had received a letter from Admiral Little saying he had been assured by the builders that any fault with the batteries of the K-2 which developed after her acceptance would be rectified by the company at its own expense, and had recommended her acceptance on that basis.

LAUNCHED IN 1913

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—The announcement that Rear Admiral William N. Little would be court-martialed for alleged neglect and carelessness in inspecting submarine K-2 occasioned surprise among officials of the Fore River shipbuilding company, where the hull of the submarine was constructed three years ago. The K-2 was launched in 1913 and was turned over to the government in 1914. Officials of the company said that they never heard of any defects in her construction. Rear Admiral Little left the yard a year ago.

J. W. Powell, president of the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation, last night made the following statement regarding the work on the submarine.

"The storage battery on the K-2 was installed under the supervision of the manufacturer's representatives. The battery troubles which have since been experienced were due to causes which have only recently been thoroughly understood, and it has required the most painstaking search to discover the reasons for the grounds in storage batteries, which can now be prevented."

"While the K-2 was delivered to the government nearly two years ago, and some months before the present management took over operation of the plant, Rear Admiral Little remained on duty as engineering inspector at the Fore River shipbuilding corporation and the Electric Boat company, until Jan. 1, last, when he retired at the age of 62 years. My personal knowledge of Admiral Little's close attention to duty, and the high standard of performance that he uniformly exacted, leads me to believe that the court-martial proceedings are founded on a misunderstanding that will be speedily cleared up before the court."

Electric Boat Contract

The despatch from Washington indicating that Rear Admiral William N. Little, retired, was to be court-martialed for neglect while acting as naval inspector at the Fore River plant, was shown to Rear Admiral Francis T. Bowles, retired, former executive head of the plant, and the request made that he comment on it. He said:

"It is true that the Fore River shipbuilding concern built the so-called K-2 submarine and presumably the K-2 was built as one of the vessels included in the contract."

"But it should be remembered that the contract for the building of these submarines was given by the government, not to the Fore River company, but to the Electric Boat company,

WHY GO ABROAD?

It is doubtful if there is a city anywhere in which there are so many distinctive foreign groups as in Lowell and it is doubtful also if there is a city anywhere in which the masses of the community are more indifferent to its composite parts. The tendency will be towards a unification of the various elements but for the present there is a wealth of folk lore and foreign atmosphere within the city limits and those who have a real literary sense or racial sympathy with those who seek our larger liberties will be thrilled and enlightened if, in the proper spirit, they get in touch with the wells of national feeling that spring up in this prosaic old city.

A typical instance will serve to illustrate. A few evenings ago two young men taking an evening walk through upper Market street heard some quaint foreign music in one of the coffee houses of that quarter. Realizing that some unusual performance was going on they entered, ordered coffee and sat at one of many tables. All around were men and boys of all ages, intensely interested in watching a miniature stage on which was being depicted a classic Greek story through the agency of marionettes. The master of the show was concealed by the screen but in a most masterly fashion he impersonated the characters of the story. Though the language was unknown to the two who had discovered such a rare performance, the mimicry and the splendid voice of the hidden marionette carried the message of the story home. There was the beautiful lady of the harem, beloved of the Greek hero but watched by a tyrannical ruler. Plot and counter plot were unfolded, through several acts, and there were fights, long dialogues and inspiring love scenes. Between the acts, folk music was thrummed on queer instruments. It was very foreign, very amusing and very instructive. A kindly native of Athens proved a most intelligent interpreter and did a great deal to round out an evening's enjoyment that, being unexpected, was all the more delightful.

The most interesting part of the performance was the attitude of the audience. They hung on every word supposed to be uttered by the expressive figures and they laughed most heartily at the comedy which was subtle and more literary than at many more pretentious theatres. It all went to prove that while there are many things we can teach the foreigners, there are many things that they can teach us if we are not blinded by arrogance or prejudice. Undoubtedly there are many in Lowell who go abroad looking for sensations which they might feel at the charming marionette performance in upper Market street.

USE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Under the proper safeguards and with adequate supervision, there seems no real reason why school buildings may not be availed of to a greater extent than at present in this city. The movement is not merely local; for the past three or four years it has been agitated by social service workers in all parts of the country and while reports are not decisive as yet, testimony from various places is decidedly in support of the innovation.

In this city as in every city of this part of the country our school buildings represent a large outlay and they are used for school purposes only a comparatively few hours, except in those cases where evening school sessions are held. Many of them are in congested sections where the people have little opportunity for amusement or instruction. It is the aim of those who favor their use as recreation centres to advocate municipal events in the school buildings which would attract the older people and create a community interest that would tend to elevate the living standards and bring pleasure into uneventful lives. If such use would not interfere with the real purpose of the schools the experiment might be worth trying.

The director of recreation of the city of Springfield, Mr. A. E. Metzford, in his address to the city last Thursday evening said that Springfield regards the greater use of school buildings as a business proposition, as by this means the public gets more for the investment of its five millions than formerly. Chicago has spent 17 million dollars for public recreation buildings, but the cost of the innovation in the Massachusetts city is only 2 cents per capita—not a great deal if the return is worth it. Under municipal auspices the citizens of Springfield are provided with dancing, moving picture performances, gymnasium classes and lectures. In theory, the proposition looks good, but this city should not act until the matter is fully investigated and weighed in all its possibilities.

Before it is initiated here, however, it might be well first of all to see that we are provided with schools for school purposes. While we have so many crying needs such as grammar school extensions, vocational school buildings and a new high school, it seems wholly inopportune to talk of using the school buildings as social centres.

COST OF GOVERNMENT

The estimates of government expenses for the coming year are the largest in the history of the country except during periods when the nation was at war but the increased appropriation is made imperative by the great reforms that call for accomplishment. In every federal department the great European war has necessitated a heavy monetary outlay not only to meet deficiencies but as a precautionary measure, and on top of heavier routine expenses come the demands for increased army and navy, restoration of the merchant marine, state department expenditures and calls for extra millions on all sides. Conditions furnish an opportunity for political attacks to those opposed to the administration but it is doubtful if any party could make a better showing at such an abnormal time. It is worth while to pay large sums for peace and prosperity in order that we may be spared the incomparably heavier debts of war and national inefficiency. In England men are being told that they ought to be willing to sacrifice half of their incomes to their government and six great powers of the world are facing bankruptcy and a tax burden that will be felt for generations. America ought to be glad that the money needed by its government at this time will not be used in the horrors of war but to insure the blessings of peace.

NURSES ARE INTERESTED

The defence offered by the school committee for their selection of out-of-town nurses to fill local positions without giving a fair opportunity to local applicants was that local nurses "were not interested." Since then it has been proved beyond question that such is not the case. If local nurses are not interested, it is very difficult to explain why so many have signified their intention of taking the civil service examination which is now required as a requisite preliminary. At least 16 have signified their intention to take the examination and besides those there are scores of nurses in Lowell who are barred by civil service requirements. Where, then, is the lack of interest? To the observer it looks as though the real weakness was in the lack of fair opportunity. The nurses who are interested now were just as interested then but they felt that no Lowell nurse need apply, and developments proved that their judgment was in the main correct. The agitation was disliked by many who took part but they wished to make such a pronounced protest that in future our school officials would be a little more careful in the methods employed to fill Lowell positions. And, by the way, there is no reason to fear that under the new system the Lowell public will suffer through lack of efficiency in the employment of Lowell nurses.

FORD ANGERS CANADA

The kaleidoscopic Henry Ford seems to have secured a corner on American newspaper publicity and the usual even tenor of his life is crossed by storms and agitations. As naval expert and peace propagandist he has kept the front pages pretty consistently but his greatest publicity coup has been in arousing a storm of protest in Canada. This was precipitated by his caustic opposition to the representations of the English and French governments who came here to negotiate a loan and it has been intensified by the resignation of his most intimate business associate who, being Canadian, did not approve of Mr. Ford's sentiments. Feeling is running high in Ontario and people there are demanding that no more Ford cars be bought for the army. Henry hints that Ontario had better slow as the closing of his Canadian factory would throw fifteen thousand hands out of employment. As seen from this distance the situation has its comical aspects which will appeal to the American humorist who made the discovery that Canada bought Ford cars for the army because an unscrupulous man does not care what he rides in.

them soggy and slimy and they make it almost impossible for tidy housekeepers to keep their premises neat. You may sweep and shovel from dawn to dark but the leaves will still wind down to be blown about by the wind according to no fancy but its own. It therefore behooves all drivers to be cautious at this time in order to avoid skidding and those who would remove the leaves had better wait until the supply is more exhausted. If dug into the soil the leaves will make good fertilizer for next year's growth, and this seems the most appropriate way of disposing of them.

It seems that England having put nearly all of the German submarines out of business, is now conducting a submarine campaign of some extent in the Baltic, where a number of German vessels are reported missing and where one British submarine sank a destroyer yesterday. She may also find a means of checking the Zeppelins which cause such consternation in London.

Why She Wanted It

A venerable white-haired clergyman of Newport had received many requests from young women for a lock of his hair. The clergyman, pleased at this expression of respect, granted the request in each instance.

This continued for several days, but one morning his wife received a note which put an end to her husband's pleasant delusion, saying as it did that their motives were too practical and utterly devoid of sentiment. It ran: "Dear Mrs. White—Won't you please ask your husband to send me just a little lock of his hair? All of the girls here at the college have been taking lessons in making hair flowers, and so many of the girls have already asked him that I thought I would rather ask you. I do so hope you will do this for me, as it is almost impossible to get white hair suitable for dyes of the valley."—Harper's Magazine.

A "Wooley" Doe

In the days when the west was really "wild" and "wooley" good doers were scarcer than women out in the mining camps.

Sometimes a man who had failed at prospecting set up an "office" in a shack and became a "lawyer," or "dentist," or "doctor." There is a young physician in Chicago whose father was one of the few competent physicians in one of the worst of countries. It was not unusual for him to ride 50 or 100 miles to visit a patient. He once got the following extraordinary letter from one of the mining failures who had set up as a "doctor."

"Dear Doc—I have a pashunt whose troubles I digrose as havin' his wind pipe ulcerated off and his lungs dropped down in his stunkin. I have given him everything you could think of but with no effect. His father is a rich and wealthy man with bushels of monney and infoonshut and the land nose I don't want to loss him he is too good a pashunt what shall I do for him ples as a reply by return male at once. Yours fraternally—Doc Hendusun."

For Twenty Years

The new senator from Alabama, Francis Shelley White, is a lawyer, and has a large practice in his state. Sometimes his work takes him out of the interior, and on one of these trips he was accompanied by his client, said client being a pious man, a deacon in the church to which White belonged.

It was late at night when the darky driver pulled up his span before the doors of the inn, which was presided over by a lady of generous heart and equal proportions. When he went to the door to engage a room White was apologetically told that it was impossible, on account of an influx of visitors, to give him a separate chamber.

"I guess I can get a separate bed, then," said he. But to this the reply was the same.

"May I ask who is to be my bedfellow?" asked White, who did not relish the idea of sharing his couch with a stranger.

"Why," replied the landlady, "it will be the gentleman with whom you came."

"Oh, that's all right, then," said White, with a sigh of relief. "He and I are both deacons in the same church and have been sleeping together during the 11 o'clock sermon in the First Baptist 20 years."—Exchange.

My Husband's Folks

Have you ever tried to warm your soul and rub your hands to life.

When the cold winter froze you through and through.

Have you ever closed your eyes a maid and opened them a wife.

In a strange uncharted world you thought you knew.

Have you waited for the welcome of your hungry little being.

THAT felt the angry moment when the brain within you smokes.

Have they bidden you good morning with their marble eyes unseeing.

Oh, I'll make them love me yet—my husband's folks!

Have they found you dull and stupid when they hoped you would be wise.

Have they asked you when to weep and when to smile.

Have they thought your hair unlovely, have they criticized your eyes.

Have they thought you just a bit jumpy—made you mad?

Have they chattered personalities and never once explained them.

Have they giggled over subtle family jokes.

Have they forced their set opinions on your soul and then ingrained them?

Oh, I'll make them love me yet—my husband's folks!

If my hair were of the sunshine and my eyes were of the stars.

If my soul were soft as any breeze that blows.

If my coffers glinted goldener and fuller than the earth.

If my flesh were of the jasmine and the rose.

Would still be something alien that one takes no sufficient care of—

Something that stands against the family-polished stones.

When that son of mine goes wooing, I'll have breakers to beware of—

Oh, I'll make them love me yet—my husband's folks.

Y.M.C.A. DAY IN CHURCHES

SERMONS IN LOCAL CHURCHES ON THE WORK OF THE ASSOCIATION

A surprise was sprung yesterday by the local Y.M.C.A. in connection with its membership campaign, when it was announced that tomorrow was to be observed as "association" day in the churches of Lowell, with visiting speakers filling the pulpits. These speakers will discuss the work of the association and outline the advantages of membership. In this way several thousand prospective members will be reached and interested.

The work of association day will be followed up by the thirty teams of automobiles, comprising men to a team. The team captains who drew names at the recent meeting are now busy interviewing and signing up workers. It is expected that this will be completed by Sunday, when a full list of teams and members will be published.

One of the points which is expected to be brought out in the membership campaign is the fact that the Y.M.C.A. building does not belong to the association; rather, it is the property of the people of Lowell and it is "up" to them to make the most of it. At the present time only about half the possible membership is enrolled.

The preliminary banquet of the campaign will be held in the gymnasium on Wednesday night, Oct. 20, for which date a special speaker has been secured. Noonday banquets will be held at 12:15 on each day of the league week. These banquets will be under the auspices of the ladies' auxiliary which will have charge of preparing the menu.

As new members are gained they will be indicated by the hand of the large clock, which will be prominently displayed. The bulletin board is also being constructed for use at the noonday meetings in the gymnasium.

The work of preparing publicity for the campaign is going forward at a good pace. Five thousand copies of the fall prospectus, and thousands of leaflets, cards and other special matter will be used.

The assignment to churches tomorrow has been announced as follows:

Calvary Baptist, A. O. Booth, one of the state secretaries for Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Paige Street Baptist, S. F. Burgess, general secretary, Y.M.C.A., Newburyport.

BRYAN TO SAVE ARMENIA SUFFRAGE RALLIES HELD

M. H. GULESIAN WOULD SEND FORMER SECRETARY TO KAISER TO INTERCEDE FOR THEM

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—M. H. Gulesian declared yesterday that intercession with the Kaiser by ex-Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. would be the only hope for stopping the massacre of Armenians in Turkey. He spoke in the council chamber at the state house at a meeting called to form an auxiliary committee for acting with similar bodies in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and elsewhere to raise funds for relief of the Armenians.

Dr. James L. Barton, secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, was the moving spirit in the meeting, as he had been in collecting evidence of the extent of the massacres and Turkish cruelty in Asia Minor.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president-emeritus of Harvard university, was chairman and Edward H. Chandler, secretary of the Twentieth Century club, was secretary of the meeting.

Dr. Eliot appointed a committee of five to name a chairman, secretary and treasurer, and with these three officers, to agree upon a permanent executive committee. He selected Dr. Barton, Judge Robert F. Raymond, Arthur S. Johnson, president of the Boston Y.M.C.A., Rev. William E. Huntington, former president of Boston university, and Edward H. Chandler, secretary of the Twentieth Century club, as the committee.

CRUSHED UNDER HIS OWN AUTO

LeDolt E. Kimball Found
Fatally Hurt at Claremont, N. H.

Died Soon After—Was Head of Lowell Commercial College.

LeDolt E. Kimball, owner of the Lowell Commercial college, died yesterday afternoon at the General hospital in Claremont, N. H., as the result of an automobile accident. Mr. Kimball was alone at the time of the accident. His automobile tipped over a road embankment and he was pinned beneath the machine. The cause of the accident has not been fully determined. He was found by a passing automobilist who rushed him to the hospital where he died shortly after his arrival without regaining consciousness.

Mr. Kimball left Lowell on Thursday for a business trip through New Hampshire and Vermont. He left Claremont, N. H., yesterday and it was on the elbow road running to Wind- sor, Vt., that his automobile turned turtle. It is believed that he did not put chains on his wheels and that the road was in a dangerous condition be- cause of fallen leaves made wet and treacherous by the rain.

An automobilist on his way to Clare- mont found Mr. Kimball under the ma- chine. He was unconscious and bleed- ing profusely. The passing automobi- list succeeded in pulling Mr. Kimball from beneath the car and placing him in his own car rushed him to the Claremont General hospital where ev- erything possible was done for him, but without avail. His chest was badly crushed and the doctors gave up the opinion that he suffered from various internal injuries.

The body was taken to the rooms of Undertaker George A. Rowell and a tel- egram was immediately sent to Mrs. Kimball in this city. Mr. Kimball's two sons, Earle and Ernest, left Lowell last evening for Claremont and will bring the body home today.

LeDolt E. Kimball was born in Grafton, N. H., June 22, 1853, and came to Lowell 38 years ago. He was a member of the First Trinitarian Congrega- tional church and at the time of his death was superintendent of the Sun- day school there. He was past chancel- lor of S. H. Hines lodge, Knights of Pythias, and had connection with practically all of the Masonic bodies in this city. He was a past master of Kilwin- ning lodge, A. F. and A. M.; a member of the club for the past ten years. He was also a member of the Alhambra council, Royal Arch Mas- sons; Alhambra council, Royal and Sec- ond Masters; Pilgrim commandery, No. 9, Knights Templars; a member of the Scottish rite of the 32nd degree, and he had been a master of Lowell council, Trinitarian lodge, A. F. and A. M. Mr. Kimball was president of the Lowell branch of the F. M. Men's club of the United States and took a great interest in that organiza- tion.

He is survived by a wife, and by two sons, Ernest L. and Earle A. Kimball. His home was at 19 Whitney avenue. The sessions of the Lowell Commercial college will be omitted until after the funeral of Mr. Kimball.

CONSTITUTION IS NEW YORK ISSUE TANNER SAYS THAT IT WILL WIN

FREDERICK C. TANNER.

Interest in the coming election in New York state on Nov. 2 is centered on the new constitution which the voters are called upon to adopt or reject, and the woman suffrage question. The voters will decide whether or not the women of the Empire state shall have the ballot. The proposed constitution, which may make several changes of importance in the fundamental law of New York state was the product of the recent constitutional convention at Albany, presided over by Elihu Root. Its friends say it will work beneficial changes in the government, but some labor leaders and others are attacking it. Fred- erick C. Tanner, chairman of the republican state committee is a strong supporter of the new constitution and has expressed the view that it will be approved by the voters.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The record of today's brief session of the stock ex- change was one of uneven declines, fol- lowed by general recoveries at the end. Initial prices were more or less con- fusing and unsettled, however, more general later on selling of U. S. Steel and other potential issues. A number of war shares were lower by 1 to 2 points, and such rails as Louisville & Nashville, New Haven, Erie second pfd. and Rock Island showed similar de- clines. The rally in the final dealings was led by Baldwin Locomotive and Bethlehem Steel, the latter rising 7 points from yesterday's close at the new record price of 481. The closing was steady. Bonds were firm.

SHOT THROUGH DOOR

LYNN WOMAN CLAIMS ANOTHER
SLAPPED HER FACE AND PUT HER OUT—HELD IN $3000

LYNN, Oct. 16.—After her face had been slapped and a door in the tenement of Mrs. Evelyn Colucci, the three-tenement house at 35 Rutland ave. had been shut in her face yester- day afternoon. It is alleged, Mrs. Es- sencia Ruggiero, 40 years old, of 23 Claremont ave., drew a revolver from a pocket in her skirt and placed the muzzle of the weapon against the frame of the door. One shot was fired and the bullet, after passing a hole through the door, struck the right breast of Mrs. Colucci, who was stand- ing at the door.

The force of the bullet was practi- cally spent when it struck Mrs. Colucci, and the wound inflicted was of a superficial character.

After firing the shot Mrs. Ruggie- ran from the house and along Rutland ave. to Chatham street. Trace of her was lost at this point. Two hours after the shooting, while Patrolmen Dwyer and Evelev were watching the Ruggiero home, Mrs. Ruggiero re- turned and was placed under arrest. The revolver was not found. The police say she told them she had thrown it away. She was charged with assault with a dangerous weapon.

After being questioned, Mrs. Ruggie- ra was locked up, but she was subse- quently released upon bail of $2000.

She is the mother of six children.

Mrs. Colucci suffered a wound from the bullet wound, but Dr. Charles E. Rich, who attended her at her home, told the police that the nervous shock was affecting her more than the wound, which he said was not of a serious nature.

TURKISH WAR REPORT

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 16, via London, 12:40 a. m.—An official com- munication issued today by the Tur- kish war department says:

"Nothing of importance has occurred on the Balkan front. Near Ana- tolia and Ari Burni there was from time to time reciprocal rifle and ar- tillery fire.

"Near Sidihi Babr our bomb throw- ers on our right wing caused a fire to break out in the enemy's trenches. Our artillery fired upon the enemy's position which was shelling our left wing near Tekko Burni, and a fire lasting an hour broke out in the enemy's camp. Elsewhere there is nothing to re- port."

"I'M GUILTY," HE TELLS OFFICER
HE LEFT HIS AUTO NEAR CORNER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Harry K. Thaw, with his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, took a motor trip in Los Angeles and its suburbs. Thaw was halted before the Long Beach police to explain why he had left his automobile standing within 20 feet of the intersection of Pine street and Ocean avenue in viola- tion of a traffic ordinance.

"I'm guilty, sergeant," Thaw said; "but this is the first time in my trip across the continent I have viola- ted a traffic ordinance."

He was excused.

ON TAX REFORM

Gov. Walsh Favors Compulsory Returns—Asks
McCall His Stand

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Oct. 16.—
Gov. Walsh, after an eventful evening of campaigning, during which the au- tomobile in which he had started from Boston caught fire, reached Century hall in this town at 11:40 last night and addressed an enthusiastic audi- ence that waited for him. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the governor did not appear at Norton.

The first meeting was in Ames Memorial hall at North Easton. While passing along the turnpike between Stoughton and North Easton the left rear wheel was suddenly enveloped in flames, the fire being caused by fric- tion from the brake bands.

All hands quickly jumped out of the machine, but were picked up by an- other machine which was following.

At the various meetings the govern- or dwelt upon taxation reform and continued his attacks upon the "invisi- ble government" which he claimed is backing his republican opponent.

"There is no more important ques- tion to be considered by the voters in this campaign than the kind of tax reform which shall be adopted by this state next year.

His particular issue places a two- fold responsibility on the voters at the coming election. First, they must themselves decide whether the consti- tution shall be so amended as to per- mit the taxation of so-called intangibles (stocks, bonds, etc.) at a differ- ent rate from that now required by the constitution.

If they say yes then their choice of state officials, both of governors and members of the legislature is of im- portance because to them will be entrusted for the first time in the history of Massachusetts full power to revolutionize the tax system of this state.

"What kind of a tax reform does my republican opponent propose for the approval of the people of Massachu- setts in the coming election?

"He must be aware if a lower rate is provided for stocks and bonds and no legislation to compel these disclo- sures is adopted there will be a very substantial increase in the taxes of every person in Massachusetts whose property is chiefly in real estate and other forms easily reached for taxa- tion.

"What will he do if elected governor and the legislature grants a special low rate of 2 or 4 mills on intangible personal property without providing for compulsory returns and adequate power to the tax commissioner?

"Will he agree to do what I now agree to do—veto any such law?

"Will he insist, as I intend to insist—that there shall be no reduction in the rates upon intangible personal property unless the reduction is ac- companied by stringent requirements for compulsory returns, and also not by a mere general oversight for the tax commissioner but actual power and adequate facilities to correct un- der valuations by local assessors and by individuals?

"After he has declared his position I propose to ask how he proposes to stop the other evils which would be left unremedied by the above changes in our law, namely, the unfair distri- bution of franchises and other taxes and the concentration of tax dangers in municipalities where the tax rate is extremely low."

POLICEMAN SUSPENDED

BERGERON ACCUSED OF NEG-LECTING TO ARREST ANNU-ZIATA, WHO SHOT GIRL

WARREN, R. I., Oct. 16.—Council Pres. Max W. Saugy yesterday sus- pended Alfred Bergeron from the po- lice force, charging neglect of duty in failing to place under arrest Mi- chael Annunziata, who is wanted by the authorities for shooting his sweetheart, Miss Jennie Rosati, last Monday, while Lodi were at work in the cotton mill of the Warren Man- ufacturing company.

Patrolman Bergeron, who was fil- ling the place of Chief of Police Nor- bert Walsh while the latter was on a vacation, was called to the mill to find the woman and her assailant both bleeding from slight wounds. Annunziata, it is claimed, turned the revolver on himself after he fired at the woman.

Bergeron, after seeing the man carried to the Hall hospital to have his wounds sewed up, handgaged, pro- ceeded to prepare for a warrant. As soon as Annunziata was bargained he walked away, there being no one to detain him. Search all over the county since has failed to locate the man.

WITH THE LOCAL CLUBS

The regular weekly meeting of the Palmer Club was held this week in the club headquarters, in Central street. President Daniel Foley was in the chair and called to order promptly on scheduled time. A number of communications from various social organizations of the city were read and a list of recent business was presented. Raymond Forgays was elected vice president.

On next Tuesday night the club will give a minstrel show at the Chelmsford street hospital for the benefit of the inmates. President Foley, as usual, will occupy the role of introducer and he will be ably assisted by 5 star soloists and 5 mirth provoking comedians. The chorus will consist of 10 well trained voices.

Jackson Palmer has been engaged as coach of the fast football squad which will represent the central street organization in the football season. He will have a dearth of material to select from as over 40 candidates are out for the team. James "Roundy" Roane, captain and also one of the special-ist quarterbacks seen at the local high school in years, has been selected to instruct the new recruits.

James Roane, John Grady and James McFarland will sing in the coming minstrel production to be conducted for the benefit of St. Margaret's church. Mr. McFarland, who is a soft shone dancer of note, will make his first appearance in the role of introducer at Chelmsford street hospital on Tuesday night, and as great things are said of his ability on the dancing boards he ought to make a very favorable impression. A meeting of the members of the minstrel troupe will be held in the club headquarters after the meeting to make arrangements for their appearance on Tuesday night.

Bellevue Club
The first meeting of the members of the Bellevue club in their new and elegant headquarters in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street was held this week with President Marshall in the chair. The new quarters consist of three large airy rooms, while previous to this week the club was cramped in a small room.

In the first of important business came up for transaction at the meeting and the members displayed a great deal of interest in the various matters brought before them for their consideration. It was decided to enter a team in the annual regatta to be held on the 21st of October. The team was composed of Charles Farrell of the Woodbine club as its secretary and the following members were selected to represent the Bellevue club on the alleys: F. Furlott, Angus McDowell, McDonald, J. Ward and George Tighe, captain. The newly formed football team held its first practice of the season at Spaulding park this afternoon and 25 candidates under the supervision of Manager McDonald and Coach Finnigan went through a fast workout. Nearly all of the candidates displayed sufficient "stomach" to make the team and as Manager McDowell is going to have a hard job on his hands weeding the number down to 22. Following the workout which consisted of felling on the ball, instructions on how to carry and catch the pigskin and short scrimmages, the team adjourned at the club where Coach Finnigan put them through some "skull practice" and explained many fine points of the great winter game which the players will have to brush up on before they engage in a real contest.

MISSIONARY IN JAPAN

DR. TEUSLER TURNS $23,500 OF $25,000 SALARY OVER TO HOSPITAL IN TOKIO

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The unusual career of Dr. Rudolph B. Teusler as a missionary in Japan added interest to the address which he made today at the convention of the Laymen's Missionary movement.

Dr. Teusler is at the head of the International hospital, Tokio, where his surgical practice brings him $25,000 a year. Of this he has turned over to the hospital as a medical missionary, and turns the balance, $23,500, over to the hospital which is a missionary institution. The emperor of Japan recently gave the hospital $25,000 in recognition of Dr. Teusler's services. The latter's fees come from his patients among wealthy Japanese and foreigners resident in Japan.

The physician told the delegates today of his work among the Japanese. Dr. S. Hall Young described mission work in Alaska and W. G. A. Miller of Pittsburgh discussed "How Can a Purchasing Agent Handle the Goods of the East?" The convention will close tomorrow.

Conference Fails to Settle Trouble - Strikers Bitterly Disappointed
A settlement in the Nashua strike situation is no nearer today than when the strikers quit work about two weeks ago. A conference between Agent Roscoe S. Milliken, former Mayor of Nashua, and four members of the strike committee was held in the office of the Nashua Manufacturing company this morning at 10 o'clock in an effort to effect a settlement of the strike. Present during the latter stages of the conference was Mayor James B. Crowley and counsel for the big manufacturing concerns.
Former Mayor Barry, backed down to business promptly at the start of the conference and explained in detail the demands which the strikers say they will insist upon before they return to work. The matter was talked over at length by the former Mayor Barry and Agent Milliken, and finally the latter asked the strikers' counsel if the demands had been drawn up in writing. The strikers' counsel said they had presented the list of demands to the mill officials, who after closely examining them asked former Mayor Barry to request the strikers to give him time to consider them. He informed the former chief executive of the Gate city that it was the first time that the strikers had been asked to give him time to consider them. He said that if given the opportunity he would make a reply in two or three days. Mr. Barry agreed to the proposition, and as a result many who held that the differences would be settled today saw that the two factions today saw that the mills would be reopened for 12 hours on Monday were deeply disappointed.
Mayor Crowley noted that the workers had asked to return to work pending the time taken in considering the demands, but this Counsel Barry refused to listen to.

CITY HALL NEWS

was discovered that the hollow tile brick on the outside of the wall had disintegrated during the past week and that the building and safety demands that they be removed and replaced.

Giant Derrick and Booms

The steel work is being done by the New England Structural company and the work of installing the derrick and booms has been built the new bridge at the County club, has charge. The work of installing a 61-foot boom to a monster derrick situated on a platform on the Colburn street side of the building was in progress this forenoon and it looked a pretty big job. The platform holding the derrick is supported by the brick walls and if they should ever give way—good night! But Mr. Carnes and his assistants are all experienced men and if the walls are not strong enough to support the derrick, its boom and boom loads, the derrick wouldn't be there. The work of installing the derrick and booms, however, calls for all the knowledge that goes with the game and the New England Structural company seems to have the knowledge. All of the men employed on the job have been with the company for a number of years and at least one of them worked on the Panama canal.

Many Education Certificates

The number of certificates given out by the attendance officers at city hall was 1200 during the month of August and September, the total number given out being 1800. They were given to persons between the ages of 14 and 21 and 60 per cent of the applicants were from the United States. The certificates were given to persons who had completed the course of study in the city schools and of the benefit of such a company to a city like Lowell.

The Gun

Some time ago The Sun published a suggestion offered by Harry Graves, the architect, relative to the placing of the gun captured from the Viscaya in the Spanish-American war and also the mortar now on the North common. Mr. Graves suggested that they be placed between the city hall and Memorial building. The matter was taken up and referred to Commissioner Putnam whose department includes public buildings. Mr. Putnam, in turn, addressed communications to the different G. A. R. posts, asking their opinion in the matter and he has received replies from all of the three posts. All of them are in favor of the suggestion and the following letter from Post 42, represents, very fairly, the attitude of the other posts:

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 14.
Newell F. Putnam, Commissioner of Public Property and License, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir: Replying to yours of the 5th inst., we appreciate your courtesy in asking the comrades of Post 42, G. A. R., to express our views on the placing of the gun which was captured from the Viscaya in the Spanish-American war and presented to our city by Hon. C. W. Johnson, before the Memorial hall and city hall. We unanimously concur with you also, respectfully ask you to consider the placing of the mortar now on the North common, presented to our city by Hon. John Jacob Rogers in a contiguous position, so that if possible a kindred relic of the American revolutionary war be placed with them. The three war relics thus presented to our city have so much to do with making our country honored among the nations of the world.

Sincerely yours,
Earl A. Thibault,
Commander B. P. Butler Post, 42, G. A. R.

NASHUA STRIKE
Conference Fails to Settle Trouble - Strikers Bitterly Disappointed
A settlement in the Nashua strike situation is no nearer today than when the strikers quit work about two weeks ago. A conference between Agent Roscoe S. Milliken, former Mayor of Nashua, and four members of the strike committee was held in the office of the Nashua Manufacturing company this morning at 10 o'clock in an effort to effect a settlement of the strike. Present during the latter stages of the conference was Mayor James B. Crowley and counsel for the big manufacturing concerns.
Former Mayor Barry, backed down to business promptly at the start of the conference and explained in detail the demands which the strikers say they will insist upon before they return to work. The matter was talked over at length by the former Mayor Barry and Agent Milliken, and finally the latter asked the strikers' counsel if the demands had been drawn up in writing. The strikers' counsel said they had presented the list of demands to the mill officials, who after closely examining them asked former Mayor Barry to request the strikers to give him time to consider them. ORDER OF REFUGES
The Benevolent Order of Refugees held a regular meeting last evening in Odd Fellows building with Pres. Frank A. Crowley in the chair. Supreme Secretary C. H. Finn of Woburn presided. The organization committee reports splendid progress and the members are looking forward to a large attendance at the annual convention to be held in Lowell on the 21st. Chaplain James H. Buckley gave a report on the outing held at Woburn for last Sunday and a program of songs and recitations was given. The meeting closed with a prayer by Rev. T. Flannery and Patrick Dempsey.
